Ike Signs Medicare For Needy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed into law the bill setting up a new federal-state program to help pay medical expenses of needy persons over 65.

Sponsors of the legislation estimate that 12.4 million of the 16 million Americans over 65 will be eligible for benefits under the medical care provisions.

The federal government will pay an expected $202 million to help finance the program the first year, with $60 million coming from the states.

By the fifth year, it is figured the costs will be $340 million in federal funds, $180 million in state contributions. Later the total would go higher. Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming estimates it could "certainly" hit $1.5 billion.

The size and extent of the benefits are entirely up to each state. The program could get under way Oct. 1 but it is not known how many states will be ready by then.

The new law also includes a number of minor liberalizations in the Social Security Act.

Boy Dies of Burns

TONAWANDA, N.Y. (AP) — Keith Graff, 4, of Tonawanda, died today in Kenmore Mercy Hospital of burns suffered Aug. 25 when, police said, he had been playing with matches. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Graff.

$125,000 Is Goal Of Community Chest

A goal of $125,000 has been set for the Kingston Area Community Chest's Red Feather Campaign which will begin October 3.

The Community Chest drive will combine the annual fund appeals of nine separate community services. Harold H. Heider, manager of the New York Telephone Company's Kingston Office, is the campaign chairman.

The goal was established by the Chest's Board of Directors upon recommendation of the budget committee. This committee, headed by William H. Hobbs, studied the requests filed by 10 agencies for Chest support during the calendar year 1961. In determining the overall goal and the individual needs and requests of the agencies, the budget committee focused on the needs of the community as a whole and on maintaining service programs which will best serve the interests of the total community.

The Community Chest and Volunteers of America jointly announced that, based on information made available by the Volunteers of America, it was recommended by the Budget Committee and approved by the Board of Directors of the Community Chest that the projected income and expenses during 1961 for this organization did not warrant their receiving funds from the Community Chest during the coming year. The Volunteers, as a member of the Kingston Area Community Chest, have in past years re-

Ryan Gets More Time 'To Talk'

Sentencing Is Set Wednesday at 10

Morgan D. Ryan, 44, former treasurer of the defunct Ulster Bituminous Distributors, Inc., who faced Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg Monday for sentence under a bribery conviction, will have until 10 a. m. Wednesday to decide whether he will appear before the special grand jury on Wednesday to "tell all" he knows about the Ulster County "kickback" racket.

After his attorney N. LeVan Haver had moved for arrested judgment on the grounds of insufficiency of the indictment and to set aside the conviction on the grounds of the testimony upon which the jury found the guilty verdict had been insufficient and also lack of corroboration of testimony, Justice Greenberg gave Ryan a "last chance" to again go before the grand jury and tell a "complete" story.

Justice Greenberg said that if Ryan would go before the special grand jury and "tell what I know you know" about the kickback in Ulster County, that action could well reflect in the sentence to be imposed.

Justice Greenberg told Ryan he should give consideration to his duty to his wife, children and aged mother in making a decision rather than to stand firm in an effort to protect "those who have thrown you to the wolves."

Consults With Attorney
Ryan asked a recess to consult with his attorney and a half hour recess was taken. At the conclusion of that time the matter was adjourned to 10 a. m. Wednesday when it will be known whether or not Ryan will go before the grand jury again.

Later Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins said that there had been no objection to the postponement of sentence until Wednesday. This would give Ryan an opportunity to consult with his wife and family on Justice Greenberg's suggestion that defendant go before the "kickback" grand jury and give further information.

Last Opportunity
In discussing the appearance of Ryan before the grand jury, Justice Greenberg said that two years ago he had conferred with (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Reds Score U.N. Chief On Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union today accused Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld of violating Security Council instructions on the Congo. It asked that the council convene at 3 p. m. EDT to air the charges.

Egidio Ortona, Italian ambassador who is president of the council this month, conferred with other members on the Soviet request, made in a letter to him.

No Decision Yet
There was no immediate decision on whether to convene the meeting.

The confusion over who is running the Congo was amplified by the withdrawal of United Arab Republic troops from the U.N. force in the Congo and the arrival of contesting Congo delegations here.

Gets More Involved
The council went into a brief session Monday afternoon as the situation was getting more involved, and U.S. delegate James J. Wadsworth moved quickly for adjournment.

He explained afterward, "There is not much point in talking until you have a sound basis of information on which to speak."

The Soviet delegate, Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin, tried to get an urgent night meeting but Council President Egidio Ortona of Italy, after conferring with other members, decided the meeting would be of little use.

The rival factions in the Congo government each sent delegations. One faction headed by Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko represented President Joseph Kasavubu. The other group headed by Thomas Kanza, the Congo's delegate-designate to the U.N., represents Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Too Early to Tell
It was too soon to see clearly what the U.A.R. withdrawal will mean. President Gamal Abdel Nasser sent about 500 paratroopers to the Congo two weeks ago. A U.A.R. spokesman in Cairo accused the U.N. of violating the (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

City-Wide Yule March Under Study

Possibilities for a city-wide Christmas parade to usher in the Christmas holiday season was one of the topics under discussion at a meeting of the board of directors of the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association Monday at Governor Clinton Hotel.

Representatives of the Central Broadway Business Men's Association and the Downtown Business Men's Association were in attendance and plans for a city-wide parade were discussed.

An open meeting for the full membership of the Uptown Association will be held Monday, Sept. 19, at 1 p. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel. At that time numerous matters will be brought to the attention of the members.

Plans to erect evergreen trees at the curb along the Uptown business area were discussed and today an application is being made to the Kingston City Planning Board for permission to carry out this program.

It is proposed to seek consent to place 206 evergreen trees, properly boxed, along the business area streets. Presently a sample exhibit of the trees is being shown in front of the Montgomery-Ward store where merchants and the public may inspect it.

The proposal is to make the trees a year around feature and at Christmas time decorate the trees with lights.

Parking in the uptown area received a boost when it was announced at the meeting Monday that Montgomery-Ward has offered to lease to the Association or the city an area off North Front Street which lies between the present Ward store parking area and the parking grounds operated by the Business Men's Association. Parking for an additional 1,000 cars would be provided. This matter will be followed through, President Clyde E. Wonderly Jr., said, at the meeting next week as well as further plans for the Christmas promotion.

Ask Cement Plant Remedy

A delegation of East Kingston residents is scheduled to appear at tonight's meeting of the Ulster Town Board to protest "and to seek relief from the nuisance created by the operation of a cement and gravel plant, located just below East Kingston in the City of Kingston."

This was announced today by Thomas Clausi, chairman of the group, which intends to present a petition of protest to the town board at the meeting in Lake Katrine Grange Hall which starts at 8 p. m. He said the nuisance is caused by the Hudson Cement Company's quarrying, drilling and blasting.

Propose Injunction
The note of protest asks that if conditions are not remedied that the board "get an immediate injunction to close the plant" until conditions changed to give relief.

"An Acker bus will leave East Kingston at 7 p. m. for the meeting," he said. "We would like as many people to attend the session as possible, and they are welcome to ride the bus."

Wilson Writes State
After a tour of the area near the cement plant, Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, wrote to the New York State Pollution Control Board, relative to action about complaints and asking that remedial steps be taken by the firm.

The petition says in part: "We come to the town board as our governing body to seek justice and to seek relief from the nuisance"

"The town board is petitioned to take immediate action to alleviate the dust and grime and very, very dirty conditions which prevail throughout the East Kingston area by cement and gravel operations."

"It is extremely detrimental both to health and living conditions."

Inspection Invited
The petition invites members of the board to inspect homes in the East Kingston sector.

Apple Crop Hit Hard, Falling Trees Problem

Police, Fire Units Summoned for Aid, Civil Defense, Red Cross Are Alerted

Destructive Hurricane Donna smashed its way through Ulster and adjoining counties Monday, causing the deaths of two storm workers, floods in some areas, uprooting an unestimated number of trees, and cutting off power and telephone service.

Extensive damage was reported to the apple crop in Ulster, Dutchess and other counties in this sector. Some homes were damaged by falling trees, and parked automobiles were crushed as the gale-like winds felled trees or snapped off large limbs. Telephone and electric power were hard hit.

Bridges were washed out. Several rivercraft broke loose from moorings off Poughkeepsie. Some were retrieved by owners or volunteers who ventured out on the choppy river. The Newburgh-Beacon ferry halted operations due to the wind and roughness of the Hudson.

Auxiliary police units, volunteer firemen and other groups turned out to offer assistance where needed. Ulster County's Civil Defense units were on a standby basis, but a spokesman said it was not necessary to alert the CD members.

Red Cross Stands Ready
The Red Cross disaster unit was alerted in the event they were needed to evacuate residents of the area. The Red Cross transportation corps also was alerted and workers stood by to assist in any emergency.

Police and firemen in the city were called back to duty. Police records show that approximately 70 calls were received at police headquarters between 1 p. m. and 6:30 p. m. yesterday about falling trees and limbs with wire involvements.

Sheriff Claude Bell assigned deputy sheriffs to areas where flooding was reported as the storm lashed the area. The sheriff reported flood conditions at Creek Rocks in the Greenkill Park area, and also on Lexington Road, Shandaken, where a bridge was washed away by swift flowing water.

Trees Clutter Roads
Most highways and streets in the area were literally cluttered with trees or limbs. Families, whose homes are completely operated by electricity, were without cooking facilities, due to power failures.

A spokesman for the New York Telephone Company reported 2,100 customers in the local area were without service, and this morning a survey showed workmen were attempting to restore service for 1,600 customers. The official said it is hoped that normal service in the stricken areas will be restored later today.

Crushed to Death
A 48-year-old Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. equipment operator was crushed to death at 3:40 p. m. while assisting other workers repair storm damage at Hyde Park.

Rhinebeck State Police Sgt. Walter Donegan identified the victim as Harold Bellien, father of two children and resident of Wappingers Falls. According to an investigation made by Cor-sidered themselves lucky as Donna blustered across the coastal sections of five of the six states. The winds and water snarled power and communication lines, smashed small boats at their moorings and felled countless trees.

The 1938 hurricane battered Connecticut, Rhode Island and southeastern Massachusetts, killing about 600 and causing some $50 million in property damage. New York City was flicked by Donna on her northward course, virtually emptying the metropolis' busy streets with a combination of fierce winds and drenching rain. Schools were closed. Streets were turned into swirling, foamy rivers and the Hudson River spewed across the West Side Highway, one of Manhattan's busiest traffic arteries.

Between Florida and New England, the hurricane roared with terrifying fury, buffeting Virginia, Maryland, and North Carolina. Morehead City, N. C., was hit with particular force.

Dona Leaves 135 Dead, Many Homeless, Damage at Billion

BOSTON (AP) — Hurricane Donna went into history today after a relentless march up the Atlantic Coast which spread terror, death and destruction from the Leeward Islands to Maine.

The grim toll stood at 135 known dead, scores missing, thousands homeless and property damage estimated at nearly a billion dollars. Twenty of the deaths were in the United States.

Donna headed out of the United States Monday night, moving on a north-northeasterly course out of Maine toward the Maritime provinces. The U. S. Weather Bureau at Boston said Donna had lost her hurricane winds and forecast further decrease in intensity.

The hurricane, born in the Caribbean sea over a week ago, bulged with 135 m.p.h. winds as it raked the Leeward Islands, Puerto Rico, Cuba, Florida and the Atlantic seaboard to New England.

President Eisenhower designated sections of Florida a major disaster area. Gov. Leroy Collins informed the President that the Florida keys, the central part of the state and coastal regions, had sustained extensive damage.

When Donna roared ashore near Bridgeport, Conn., Monday afternoon, she quickly lost intensity and by early evening had become just a slashing, wind-whipped rain storm. The wind velocity dropped quickly to about 75 m. p. h., although Blue Hill observatory near Boston reported gusts to 140 m. p. h.

Advance warnings set in motion extraordinary measures to prevent loss of life and reduce property damage.

Thousands were evacuated from beach areas at Long Island, N.Y., Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts, as Donna rumbled toward the densely populated Northeast. Emergency measures were put into effect from Virginia to Maine.

New Englanders, recalling the murderous hurricane of 1938, con-

Legion Invites Full Turnout at Meeting Sept. 20

All legionnaires are invited by Commander James J. Costello of Kingston Post 150 of the American Legion to attend the monthly meeting Sept. 20 at 8 p. m., at the Legion Home, 18 West O'Reilly Street.

William Reardon, a Kingston High School senior, who attended the Boys State at Colgate University under sponsorship of the Kingston Post, will address the members and relate his experiences at Boys State.

The youth took an active part in the program at Boys State, especially the political activities. He said on his return to Kingston that he was particularly impressed with the opportunity to vote, using the same voting machines used in elections.

Legionnaires are urged by Commander Costello to make returns within the next few days for tickets.

Past commander Meyer Kaplan, chairman of Child Welfare, has expressed appreciation to all who made it possible for Kingston Post to be awarded the Third District Child Welfare citation for the outstanding child welfare program. The citation will be on display at next Tuesday's meeting.

Past Commander William F. Hanley, chairman of the membership committee, has announced that 1961 membership cards are available and he reminds all legionnaires that dues are five dollars.

Hanley said that all honorably discharged veterans who served during the war years, April 6, 1917 to Nov. 11, 1918; Dec. 7, 1941 to Sept. 2, 1945; June 25, 1950 to June 27, 1953, are eligible for membership in the Legion.

Refreshments will be served following the Sept. 20 meeting.

65 Visit Chest Mobile Despite Donna's Lashing

The Free Chest X-ray Survey for Ulster County opened Monday at Marlboro despite Hurricane Donna. Volunteers were on hand to register those who came. Only 65 of 740 who signed up had their X-rays. The Survey Coordinator, Miss Hazel M. Steed, announced today arrangements have been made for the mobile unit to return to Marlboro Monday, Sept. 26th, 2 to 4 and 5 to 8 p. m.

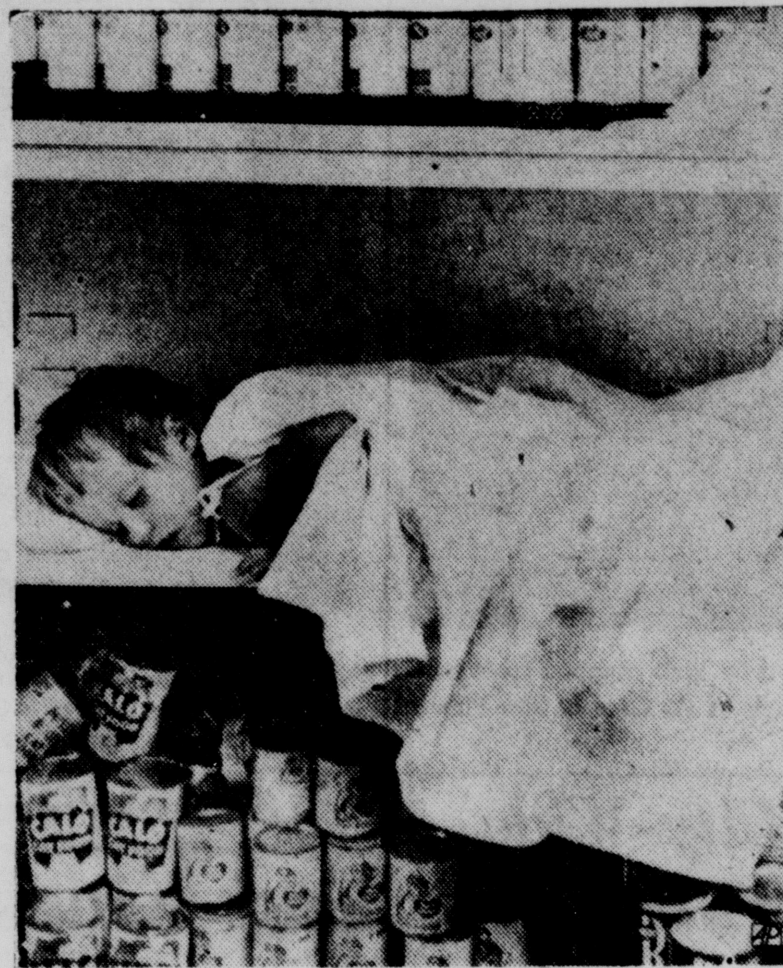

Today the mobile X-ray unit is at the firehouse in Milton, 2-4 and 5-8 p. m. Folks not X-rayed in Marlboro Monday are welcome to attend in Milton or other neighboring areas.

The mobile unit will be in Highland, near the Methodist Church, on Wednesday and Thursday (September 14 and 15) and on Friday, September 16, will move to Rosendale where it will be at the Rosendale Grange. Next week's schedule will open at Port Jervis, then move on to the town of Saugerties for the remainder of the week.

The Survey is sponsored by the Ulster County TB and Health Association in cooperation with the New York State and Ulster County Departments of Health and the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital.

Name Chairman Of Israel Bond Sale Campaign

ALFRED D. RONDER
Kingston Area State of Israel Bond Committee announced today that Alfred D. Ronder, of 85 Johnston Avenue, has accepted the post of general chairman of the 1960 Kingston Area Israel Bond Campaign.

Ronder, who has visited Israel, said, "The State of Israel is today the outstanding example in the Middle East of the development and growth of democracy among the new small nations of the world. In the Middle East Israel stands out as an example of how a small nation can build itself."

Aided Self-Sufficiency

Ronder said further, "Israel Bonds, since the year 1951, has enabled Israel to achieve practical self-sufficiency in agriculture. Today Israel has a thriving dairy industry; grows enough cotton for its own needs and is increasing its annual industrial production. Israel Bonds have enabled the State to erect over 225,000 permanent housing units. The area under cultivation in Israel has increased from 412,000 acres to 1,000,000 acres. A new vastly enlarged pipeline will bring much-needed oil to all sections of Israel from the Red Sea. Israel faces a critical period in the years ahead."

"I am urging my friends in the area to invest because Israel Bonds are the basis for building 32,000 houses a year for the next five years to give all the people of Israel a decent place to live. Israel Bonds will finance a new 100-mile irrigation line which will bring the water of the Jordan River to the barren Negev Desert. In this way this vast desert area can be irrigated and populated. The years of the second decade of Israel, beginning with 1960, are years for speedier progress."

1,000,000 Own Bonds
Ronder pointed out that over 1,000,000 persons are now Israel Bond holders. These Bonds, which pay 4 per cent interest, are an investment, which Mr. Ronder stated, "do a job vital to the

Stanley Kelder, Former Rochester Supervisor, Dies

Stanley F. Kelder, 75, of Mettacahtons, who served as justice of the peace of the Town of Rochester and also supervisor of that town from 1942 to 1947, died at his home Monday after a short illness.

He had been a lifelong resident of Mettacahtons, having been born in that community Aug. 12, 1885, son of the late George C. and Sarah M. Rider Kelder. He was married to Belle Osterhoudt and two years ago they celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

A member of the Rochester Reformed Church of Accord, he had served as an elder of the church and was a member of the Greater Consistory of the Church. Mr. Kelder was a lifelong Republican and while serving his town as supervisor and justice for some 12 years, was always active in Republican circles.

An electrician by trade, Mr. Kelder was a technical representative for several insurance companies and also served in the capacity of an electrical inspector.

Was Grange Member

He was a member and Past Master of Patroon Grange of Accord, and also a member of Ulster County Pomona Grange. He was a charter and life member of Accord Fire Company and also served as president of the Whitfield Cemetery Association.

Besides his wife, Belle Osterhoudt Kelder, two sons survive, S. Robert Kelder of Stone Ridge and Franklin S. Kelder of Mettacahtons. Also surviving are four grandchildren, Mrs. James (Jean) Nerone of Kingston, Mrs. Lars B. (Janis) Hagen Jr., of Fort Devens, Mass., S. Robert Kelder Jr., and Wayne F. Kelder, both students at Cornell University; two great grandchildren, Jay and Jeffrey Nerone of Kingston; two brothers, LeRoy C. Kelder and Arthur J. Kelder, both of Mettacahtons. Several nieces and nephews also survive.

Funeral services will be held from the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home, Kerhonkson, Thursday at 1 p. m., with the Rev. George Wood, pastor of the Rochester Reformed Church of Accord, officiating. Burial will be in Whitfield Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home today from 7 to 9 p. m. and any time Wednesday.

No Action Taken On Naming of Seven Area PMs

Seven area postmaster nominees were among the 60 in New York State who failed to win Senate confirmation when Congress adjourned last week, the Associated Press reported.

The next president, if he is a Republican, can be expected to nominate many of the same persons next year as postmasters and all of the bills which died on the legislative vine, will undoubtedly be reintroduced when the 87th Congress convenes.

If a Democrat is elected president, the postmaster nomination lists could be changed considerably. The new president can appoint any one of the three top qualifiers.

Those not confirmed are Kenneth A. Hotelling, New Paltz; Dorothy R. DuMont, Ulster Park; Albert E. Johnson, Cementon; Nellie P. Johnson, Chichester; Jean N. Van Kleeck, Cragmoor; John J. Frazer, Earlton; and Elsie J. Barber, Pine Bush.

The Title's the Thing

NEW YORK (AP)—Some-times the play's not the thing, it's the title. In his early play-writing days Tennessee Williams wrote a drama called "The Fugitive Kind." Even he regards it as a minor effort. Later one of his Broadway hits was "Orpheus Descending." Now that play is being made into a movie, but the film producers decided they needed a different title. A list was submitted of alternate titles and the winner was "The Fugitive Kind."

State Aid Changes Asked, Thruway Zoning Discussed

KIAMESHA LAKE, N. Y. (AP) — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt called today for an overhaul of state-aid programs, which now total more than one billion dollars a year.

"The present aid system of New York State is a hodge-podge of individual formulas, each unrelated to the other," the comptroller said.

His remarks were in a speech to the 36th Annual Fall Conference of the County Officers Association of New York State.

Another speech prepared for the meeting proposed that local communities along the State Thruway tighten zoning and building laws "with an eye to preventing undesirable projects from being built" along the superhighway.

That recommendation was made by R. Burdell Bixby, chairman of the Thruway Authority.

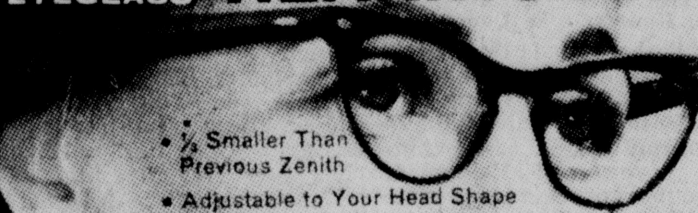

He said Thruway representatives would work local officials in an authority program "designed to insure each community that it will present the most advantageous impression to the tens of millions of motorists who pass through it on the Thruway each year."

Levitt said that no one knew the relationship between a community's needs and the state aid it received under the various programs.

"Each program has its own formula," he said, "its own function and its own set of administrative agencies."

He called for an overall policy to guide all state-local relations.

Appointments Made at IBM

J. C. MYER

Three appointments to new positions have been announced by executives of International Business Machines Corporation at the Kingston Plant.

John C. Myer of Lake Katrine and Edward T. Donnelly of Hurley are now technical associates in environmental and component testing. The appointments were announced by Hery E. Cooley, manager of IBM's Federal Systems Division engineering laboratory.

E. T. DONNELLY

Sooren Soovajian of Saugerties is a staff quality engineer in quality engineering services, according to Richard J. Whalen, general manager of the Federal Systems Division.

A graduate of Saugerties High School, Myer joined IBM at Poughkeepsie in 1953. He, his wife, Alyce and daughter Lori, 4, reside on Country Lane, Lake Katrine.

S. SOOVAJIAN

He is an electronic technician, he, his wife, Helen, live in Hurley. They have four children, Edward, 9, Patricia, 8, Stephen, 5, and Ellen, six months.

Sooren Soovajian, a graduate of Saugerties High School, joined IBM here in 1956. An army veteran of two years, he has a bachelor of science degree in industrial engineering from Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He and his wife, Virginia, reside on Abbott Court, Saugerties.

Head of Bureau Says Corruption Declines in Labor

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Is labor corruption declining? A government official charged with policing labor union practices thinks it is. "A lot has been accomplished," said John L. Holcombe in an interview pegged to the approaching first anniversary next Thursday of the Landrum-Griffin law.

Holcombe heads the new Bureau of Labor-Management Reports established in the Labor Department to enforce the law's strict safeguards over union funds and guarantees of union member rights.

Until the law was signed a year ago, lurid testimony at Senate rackets hearings had churned up numerous stories of labor corruption. Since then there have been fewer such headlines. What has happened in the meantime?

"Not much has been accomplished in a practical sense," Holcombe said.

"People haven't been thrown in jail, but we've gotten fine voluntary compliance. Some individuals have just decided that what they were doing is against the law."

"We can vouch for that—from the tracks we've found and the waterholes that aren't being visited any more."

More than 2,000 secret complaints reached Holcombe's desk during the first year. Most of them were thrown out after investigation because they complained of situations pre-dating the new law. These can't be prosecuted unless the practices are resumed, something Holcombe's agents are watching for.

Holcombe's reports bureau hasn't yet obtained a court conviction. One union official voluntarily confessed in Puerto Rico he'd taken $1,200 union funds. He threw himself on the mercy of the court and drew a suspended sentence.

Last week the Justice Department, which handles criminal prosecutions under the law, obtained its first grand jury indictment based on the Landrum-Griffin law. This charged a Plumbers-Pipefitters Union official at Tulsa, Okla., with embezzling union funds and concealing records.

Strikers Return Today To State Hotel Jobs

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) — Striking workers at the state-owned Gideon Putnam Hotel went back to work today after settlement of a 36-day strike.

Schine Hotel Inc., which leases the plush resort hotel, and the Bartenders, Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union, Local 584, signed a contract Monday, ending the walkout.

More than 100 employees left their jobs Aug. 7 — the height of the thoroughbred racing seasons here — and set up a picket line. The hotel remained open during the strike.

The employees claimed the Schine firm refused to meet terms of a contract signed by a previous operator. Schine claimed it had no contract with the union.

The hotel was opened April 1 under Schine management after being closed for the winter.

A Schine spokesman said details of wage agreements covering various classifications of workers still were being worked out. He said 40 per cent of the old employees had returned to work before the settlement.

Rocky Names 2 Specialists to Housing Finance

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller named two specialists in real estate finance today as public members of the State Housing Finance Agency.

They are Lawrence A. Levy of New York City, an official of the International B. S. I. Economy Corp., a Rockefeller enterprise, and George S. Van Schaick of Cobleskill, chairman of the board of the Security Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Binghamton.

Levy was named for four years, Van Schaick for two.

The Housing Finance Agency will administer a half-billion-dollar program for construction of housing for middle-income families. The agency will raise money by selling its securities to the public, lend it to private builders at interest rates low enough to keep rents within the reach of middle-income families. Rents are expected to be about $29 a room per month.

The 1960 Legislature set up the program.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas—For years, "they said it couldn't be done." But now a Texas firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If your symptoms indicate that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. This is all the more remarkable in light of the fact that the great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped. But how can any man or woman be sure what is actually causing their hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Actually, there are 18 scalp disorders that can cause hair loss. No matter which one is the cause of your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. If you still have hair (or at least some fuzz) on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to act.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the hair you lose in one morning's combing, together with information to help them analyze your problem. This information should include how long your hair has been thinning, do you have dandruff? is it dry or oily? whether your scalp erupts in pimples or other irritations, does your forehead become oily or greasy? does your scalp itch and how often? and any other information you feel might be helpful. All letters will be answered promptly. Send the hair sample, the above information, and your name and address to Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Box 6001, Houston 6, Texas.—Adv.

Grain Union Gets Ready to Answer 1.2 Million Suit

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Officials of a striking grain elevator workers local today prepared to answer a $1.2 million suit and management's request for an injunction to halt a walkout which has silenced most of Buffalo's huge flour industry.

The actions were filed Tuesday in State Supreme Court here by the owners of eight of the 12 idle grain elevators along the waterfront.

The six-day-old strike has tied up more than 3,000 workers, including 2,200 flour mill employees who refused to cross picket lines.

Major mills closed are General Mills, Pillsbury, International Milling, and Russell Miller Milling Co.

The complaint said the strike by the 500-member Grain Elevator Employees Local 1286 violates agreements providing that an issue between the local and one elevator would not involve other elevators.

General Mills asked for $500,000 damages and the other seven elevator owners $100,000 each.

Supreme Court Justice John S. Marsh directed officers of the striking local to appear today.

The strike was brought on by the layoff 11 days ago of 13 workers at the Buffalo Terminal Grain Company's elevator. The company said it was impractical to keep the men on because of a tieup caused by the Pennsylvania Railroad strike.

The union said the men were guaranteed work as long as there is grain in the elevator and claimed it contained more than a million bushels.

Federal mediators said negotiations would be suspended temporarily because of the court action.

The state name Wisconsin derives from a Chippewa Indian word meaning "grassy place."

Veteran State Employee Gets Conservation Post

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—William D. Mulholland of suburban Slingerlands, a veteran state employee, is the new assistant director of lands and forests for the State Conservation Department.

Mulholland was appointed Monday to succeed Edward W. Littlefield in the $11,416-a-year post. Littlefield recently was named assistant commissioner for lands and forests.

Mulholland, who has been with the department for 38 years, has been superintendent of its bureau of camps and trails since 1927.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Freedom of speech is one thing," said actor-producer Ronald Reagan, "but it certainly does not include permission for the producers of a television show to go out of their way to offend certain groups in the viewing audience."

Reagan, host and often star of the G. E. Theater which soon will start its seventh year on the air, was talking about frequent criticism of television for its lack of daring, its reluctance to experiment.

"There's a whole school of people in the entertainment business today which seems to exist primarily for its own amazement," Reagan continued. "And that's all right, but I don't think these people have any right to expect that this eliminates their responsibility toward children and young people in the big audience, toward people who want entertainment from television and toward stockholders and boards of directors of companies that sponsor television entertainment."

Hollywood, said Reagan, became a great film capital by "matching up good stories with good, capable stars."

That, he said, is the formula his TV show follows — the story and the star formula.

"We feel that it is our obligation to entertain people," he said. "If, in the course of entertaining them, we find a way to uplift them or to better them, that is a plus value. But if our show refuses to go in for sordid, unpleasant themes and unsavory subjects, it is not because of the 'civardice' of the sponsors. It's just that we don't think that's our job."

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER

Though it has seldom affected Americans in recent years, one of the greatest wars of the 20th century is still going on. This is the battle against malaria, which had its beginning as an outcome of the Spanish-American War.

The World Health Organization reports that it has freed 53 million people in the Americas alone from the threat of the disease. But in about a third of the nations, malaria still exists. Russian health officials hope to completely eradicate the disease in their country this year.

The campaign appears to be moving into its final stages. Everyone concerned can be justly proud of this kind of battle.

TONGUE TIES

The State Department is planning to give incentive pay to foreign service officers who learn "esoteric" languages. By esoteric they mean such unusual tongues as Lingali, Thai, Arabic.

It's too bad that some sort of incentive arrangement can't be made for parents of teenage children, whose ever-changing language is about the most esoteric on earth.

THE FRIENDLY MOBS

Mobs in the news are associated generally with hostile action. But there is a menace in friendly mobs which has largely been unnoticed.

A movie actor not long ago suffered injury when fans pressed too close upon him. When friendly enthusiasts deluged Adlai Stevenson at the Los Angeles convention it looked as if his clothes were about to be ripped off. When Candidate Kennedy arrived back in Boston it required more than 50 policemen to hold back the 15,000 who greeted him.

At the Republican convention the Nixon children were temporarily separated from their parents when crowds clawed and shoved to get at the vice president.

The menace of such friendly mobs may seem slight, but it is very real. Despite their friendly interest and purpose they are influenced by mob spirit and psychology. Each person wants to be in front, in the thick of it all. Hence the pressure and the danger.

Back of mobs, friendly or unfriendly, is the lack of a sense of individual control and of individual responsibility. Another aspect of the same thing is the rush of motorists to the scene whenever a fire alarm sounds and fire-fighting equipment is on the way.

In an American city recently the damage from a big fire was far greater than it would have been had not the firemen been hampered by converging motorists. It would be a good rule for every motorist, when a fire alarm sounds, to keep out of the way.

It would be wise, too, for friendly fans to be less anxious to be in the forefront. Consideration for the individual whom one would honor is more important than pressing in close to see or touch him.

Russia offers to restore the Kurile islands to Japan if she'll break her U. S. alliance. It's the old story: If threats don't work, try bribery.

PROGRESS PAUSES

There's a slight detour in the route progress is taking through the village of Healmpton, England.

Officials have agreed to spare Mother Hubbard's cottage, complete with that famous cupboard, in tearing down old structures under a rebuilding program.

Tradition has it that the cottage was occupied by a real "Mother Hubbard," a retired housekeeper, and her hungry dog, back in 1805 when the nursery rhyme was written.

Children of all ages will applaud.

'These Days'

By GEORGE B. SOKOLSKY
LUMUMBA

Self-government for a nation, as for an individual, involves a long tradition and habit of self-restraint. Those who possess power may use it for any purpose, good or evil, beneficial or harmful. The possessor of power must be restrained by conscience, by moral law, by laws of his nation, by the will of the people. If he is governed by whim or by the brutality of his nature or by his private interpretation of reason, either tyranny or anarchy will exist.

The Congo is an example of what can happen to a people with no tradition of self-government. There never was a nation called the Congo until the Europeans created it for their own purposes. The Congo is a river which passes through an area that contained many tribes in varying degrees of savagery. The Belgians and the French created the political entity called the Congo. The French part was governed according to French ideas and is now orderly; the Belgian part was largely held in subjection and its development was very slow.

The assumption that all people are equal, even if it were true, does not imply that all people possess the same abilities, the same capacity for self-government. And whereas it may be said that it is a fundamental principle that every people has a right to a government of its choice, it is not true that any people has a right to disturb the entire world, to lay a basis for war, to stir up strife. Against the land nation, the world must rise in self-defense as society always takes measures against brigands.

Whoever Lumumba is, he is a nuisance. The Congo cannot be isolated because Lumumba, like Castro, chooses to use his country as a pawn in a power play. His assumption undoubtedly is that by taking advantage of such opportunities as might arise from a contest between great nations over the Congo, he can, in some way, benefit.

Unfortunately, Lumumba cannot, as Mao Tse-tung could, swiftly establish an organ of power within his own country where his authority is contested. Nor could he establish such personal respect as Sukarno did in Indonesia. Nor does he have the history among his own people that Nehru has in India. Lumumba's problems, therefore, are complex and he has not been able to form a union of tribes and provinces swiftly. He may not last unless supported by a foreign power such as Soviet Russia.

Time is extremely important in the early stages of forming a nation. The 13 colonies which became the United States were not the only territories on the American continent. Eastern Canada, particularly Quebec, was the same kind of a British colony that New York was, except that Quebec's European background was originally French and New York's was Dutch. In a word, the more perfect union did not apply even to all the British colonies on the North American continent; it was limited to 13 like-minded areas which joined into a Federation and which made rapid strides toward some form of self government, culminating in the Constitution. Even so, the Federation could not become a nation until after the War Between the States when the question of secession was settled; that is, that an area once entering the Union may never leave it. It is that principle which formed a nation.

The Congo requires such statesmen as Jefferson and Madison to move forward to union swiftly. It requires a man of wisdom like Franklin and of leadership such as Washington. Lumumba does not seem to be the type, as Castro is not the type. Sun Yat-sen, the father of the Republic of China, strongly influenced by American ideas which he absorbed in Honolulu, was the self-sacrificing leader whom even his enemies respected. This could not be said of Lenin or Stalin and certainly not of Lumumba or Castro. Men must be respected unless they govern through fear.

Therefore the Congo is in its current confusion. No personality, no force, no concept exists to bring together not irreconcilable but differing peoples. Such a disorderly area in the heart of Africa or any continent can disturb the world at this sensitive moment when Soviet Russia is functioning imperially against all the world, even against its Communist partners.

Be Hesitant About Joining
The Tranquizer Gulpers

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A survey by the National Prescription Audit indicates that the American public, in 1959, spent $95,448,417 on tranquilizers.

Based on an average of $4 per prescription, this figure suggests that some 24 million orders for these drugs were given by physicians. Conceivably, these orders were given to perhaps 10 million persons.

Now, of these prescribed tranquilizers, about half are members of the chemical family of phenothiazines.

Unpleasant side reactions from this family of drugs, as reported by Dr. Frank J. Ayd Jr. (Psychosomatics, May 1960 pg. 143), include weakness, muscle fatigue, muscle aches and pains, disorientation, facial grimacing and distortions, pulling of neck muscles backward or to one side, difficulties in speech and breathing, awkwardness of gait, attacks in which the eyeballs stare or roll, restlessness, "jitters" and finally an imitation of the state of "shaking palsy" in which the patient becomes rigid, develops a "bill-rolling" tremor of hands and exhibits a mask-like facial expression.

Depending on the character of the drug, its comparative dose, and the sensitivity of the individual patient, the frequency of these side reactions may be as low as 1 or 2 per cent, and as high as 36 to 40 per cent.

I call this report to your immediate attention because of the recommendation that these side effects be treated by administration of yet another drug that, in its turn, may produce blurred vision, dryness of the mouth and rapidity of the pulse.

If you're wise, you'll hesitate before you join the army of 10 or more millions of tranquilized Americans.

tragically correct that definition is. It is true that some socialist leaders, both here and abroad, are high-minded humanitarians who are dedicated to the cause of human freedom. But these idealists are always in the minority. They are soon shunted aside by the ruthless realists to whom communism is not only a political system but a religion. And individual freedom dies.

That is inevitable when limitless power is concentrated in the state. At the beginning, that concentration may be accomplished with the very best of motives. But the end result is slavery.

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—The Democratic party in the South is now split worse than it has been, and the chances for growth of the Republican party in the South are better, in the opinion of daily newspapers from Annapolis, Md., to El Paso, Texas, who were polled on 1960 political trends in the southern states.

Three-fourths of the southern editors think that the Republican party offers southern conservatives the best political future. And about half of the editors believe that conservatism in the South is growing as a result of 1960 political developments.

These findings are not interpreted as proof that the South will have a genuine two-party system at all levels this year. Editors do not believe the GOP will make much gain in congressional delegations from the ten southern and four border states surveyed.

But Republicans can give the Democrats a race in this year's presidential election.

One of the questions asked the editors of 218 southern dailies who receive this Washington column through Newspaper Enterprise Association was:

"How serious is the Democratic party split in your state, following adoption of the 1960 platform and the selection of Senators John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson as its candidates?"

Forty-four per cent of the editors replying to this question reported the Democratic split was made worse. This sentiment was reported from every state except Maryland.

On top of this, 41 per cent of the editors think that the split in Democratic ranks between lib-

Opinions Vary on Handling Khrushchev on U. N. Visit

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 — What to do about Nikita Khrushchev's visit to New York is getting to be a bigger question mark for the moment than who is going to win the Presidential election in November.

Two opposite views are prevalent. Harry Truman, for instance, expresses the opinion that Khrushchev should be ignored by the press because he has insulted our President, while Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says it's "silly" to restrict Manhattan Island as the Department of State has ordered.

Mrs. Roosevelt in London
It will be noted that Mrs. Roosevelt spoke her mind while visiting in London, where several British newspapers have been sharply critical of the American government's decision. The trouble, of course, is that the British suffer from a historic affinity for politeness to dictators, and unwittingly they build up the ego of such men. Had they gotten tougher with Hitler in the 1930s, instead of playing up to him at "summit" conferences at Munich, there might not have been a second World War.

The issue between those who would embrace Khrushchev, or at least treat him just as if he were a sane and civilized diplomat, and those who would snub him spectacularly is not one that is going to be settled by public opinion. If the American people had their way, they would prefer to have the Soviet dictator shipwrecked on a desert island—without vodka—during his voyage across the Atlantic this week.

Demands Skillful Counter
But the game which he is planning to play at the United Nations meeting is one that has to be countered skillfully by the American government. The Soviet dictator's speeches undoubtedly will add to the insults he flung at this country during the Paris "summit" conference last May. There will have to be forceful responses this time from the American representatives.

As for the restrictions placed on Khrushchev's movements, this was taken for two reasons. First, the problem of affording protection to a Soviet dictator and his party might get beyond control as passions rise. Second, the American government did not invite the Soviet dictator to tour the United States. It will be recalled that he himself withdrew an invitation previously extended to President Eisenhower to visit Russia. One reason given for the cancellation was that the political climate in Russia had altered and that the people there were in an antagonistic mood toward the United States. So it works both ways.

If the Soviet dictator thinks that, because the Eisenhower administration is winding up its term, the people here no longer care how many insults are flung at their President, he can be adequately informed of his mistake only by demonstrations of displeasure at his cost.

The report was on an economic study of the port of Sorel, which is located at the junction of the St. Lawrence and Richelieu Rivers 40 miles northeast of Montreal.

The 450-mile inland water route lies along the Richelieu River, Champlain Canal, Lake Champlain, the Champlain Canal and the Hudson River.

At present the route cannot be used by vessels of greater draft than 6½ feet because of the shallow Champlain Canal locks.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Caution at both the consumer and the business level is the latest economic worry.

It wasn't too far back that the official worry was that the American consumer and the American businessman would take off on a speculative spree leading to a boom and then a bust.

Neither did. And fears of further sharp inflation were laid quietly to rest.

But the middle course that consumers and businessmen followed now is taking on the look here and there of retrenchment. And that isn't good for business.

Consumer caution simply means that there is a trifle less spending, especially for some big-ticket items. It means a bit more saving because total disposable income remains high. The summer slowdown in retail trade was a bit more noticeable than usual. A fall pickup will be doubly welcome. The consumer caution backs up in less ordering by retailers. And then manufacturers pull in their horns, too.

The caution thus shows up as an end result in less industrial output and a sticky core of unemployment.

Business caution also shows up in living off inventories instead of ordering ahead and in trimming plans for spending on new plant and equipment. These, too, eventually back up in declining new orders and output in supplier industries.

The caution is just that and no more. Consumer total spending is still high if more selective. Businessmen mostly have been postponing expansion rather than canceling it as a long-range objective.

Some are waiting for new orders to catch up with present capacity. And others have been waiting for current uncertainties to clear up. These run all the way from the outcome of the presidential election to the future of defense spending, from the growing spirit of caution among consumers.

The latter breed is often unpredictable. What makes him decide that times will always get better and better, or to turn around and decide it's a good idea to add a bit more to the nest egg, is sometimes hard to say.

Happy Times Social Worker Advocates 3-Generation Household

BY MARIE DAERR

"Homes today have family rooms and recreation rooms. But too many have no room for grandparents."

That accusation was made recently by Arthur J. Robins of the University of Missouri School of Social Work. He was a speaker at the Fifth International Congress of Gerontology in San Francisco.

Robins firmly believes that American households should be three-generation projects. He even suggested a program of cheap loans for adding a grandparents' suite to homes.

"After all, the government helps out builders of retirement housing projects," Robins pointed out, "so why not help out a son or daughter who would like his or her parents to live in the home?"

"We Americans are too inclined to segregate the older generation. We are too eager to put its members into retirement colonies, homes for the aged, or even in foster or boarding homes."

Robins reported that some states even "put a premium on living apart from the children," by the way they handle their old-age assistance programs. They decrease aid or make requirements for aid stiffer if the old person lives with son or daughter, he said.

Robins pointed out that sometimes grandparents in the home makes it possible for daughter or daughter-in-law to get out of the house more often. And, in Robins' opinion, grandma and grandpa have much to give their grandchildren.

"Parents today are continually rushed," Robins said. "Dad comes home from the office and tackles some chores around the house."

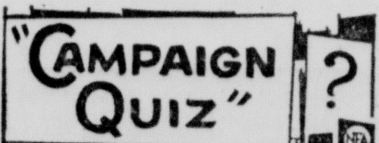

"Mother is so busy, she has no time to answer the stream of questions that is a child's search for knowledge."

"But grandparents have plenty of time. They can sit and listen to a child's questions. They are patient and tolerant. They can explain the world to their grandchildren."

Brooklyn Man New State Liquor Head

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Martin C. Epstein of Brooklyn, takes over today as chairman of the State Liquor Authority. Epstein, a Republican, succeeds Thomas E. Rohan, who resigned to accept a judicial appointment in New York City.

Epstein, a former U. S. Commissioner for the Eastern District of New York, was appointed to the authority last year.

The chairman is paid $18,886 a year. As a member, Epstein was paid $16,962.

Pershing Day in State

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Today is General of the Armies John J. Pershing Centennial Day in New York State.

Gov. Rockefeller proclaimed the observance Monday in honor of the 100th anniversary of the birth of the leader of the American Expeditionary Force in World War I.

Rockefeller also proclaimed next week as White Cane Week to emphasize New York's White Cane Law, which requires motorists to give the right of way to persons carrying white canes to indicate they are blind.

Both Parties Endorse Fuld

Foster, Ughetta to Vie For State Jurist Post

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Two veteran jurists, Republican Sydney F. Foster of Liberty and Democrat Henry L. Ughetta of Brooklyn, will battle in the only statewide contest in the November election for a seat on the State Court of Appeals.

They were nominated Monday by their respective state committees, which met in separate conventions to select court candidates for the fall election.

Only Two Seats at Stake

Both parties endorsed Judge Stanley H. Fuld of New York City, a Republican, for re-election to another seat on the state's highest court. Only two of the seven court seats are up for election this year.

The Democrats refused bi-partisan endorsement of Foster, now serving on the court, on the ground he was an appointed judge.

Each party also named 45 presidential electors and each predicted that its electors would case the state's votes for president.

The meetings were lightly attended because of storms that lashed the state.

There are 300 members of each committee.

There was no opposition at either party meetings to the nominations for the Court of Appeals or for presidential electors.

In other developments: 1. Lyle W. Hornbeck of Syracuse, Republican state campaign manager, said that the most intensive registration drive in the state's history would begin next week. He set a goal of bringing 500,000 to one million additional voters on the rolls.

2. Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast called for bi-partisan agreements to elect qualified Democrats to the State Supreme Court in Upstate areas. Otherwise, Prendergast said, Democrats might abandon a policy of endorsing some Republicans for that court in heavily Democratic areas of New York City.

Named by Rocky

Foster, 67, now is sitting on the Court of Appeals by appointment of Gov. Rockefeller. Foster has been a judge since 1928, when he was elected to State Supreme Court.

Ughetta, 57, is a justice of the Appellate Division, Second Department. He was elected to the State Supreme Court in 1942.

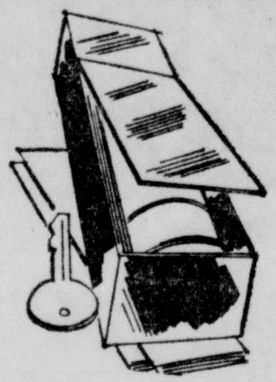

By tradition, the Republican and Democratic state parties give joint for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the GOP presidential candidate.

They also include a Nixon-T. Carl Nixon of Rochester — who is no relation to the candidate.

Democratic electors include former Gov. Averell Harriman, Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, Prendergast and Tammany Leader Carmine DeSapio.

Herbert H. Lehman, former governor and U. S. Senator, and leader of an insurgent movement that has been battling both Prendergast and DeSapio, is also a Democratic elector.

Would Quit Before Letting Religion Interfere: Kennedy

WITH KENNEDY IN TEXAS (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy pushed confidently ahead today with efforts to convince Protestant Texas—and with it other fundamentalist religious areas—that his Catholicism should not bar his election as president.

The Democratic presidential nominee scored what he and his associates regarded as a ten-point victory in a question and answer period with about 500 members of the Houston Ministerial Association Monday night.

Tells Strong Feeling
In a dramatic televised half-hour and a subsequent extended question period, Kennedy said in a broad-ranging discussion he supports separation of church and state so strongly that if elected he would resign the presidency should its duties conflict with the tenets of his faith.

He insisted this never could happen. And he fielded a series of prepared questions which seemed to be designed to show that no matter what statements he might make, his church would not influence his course in office.

Some Applause
The ministers were courteous throughout. They applauded on some occasions, once when he said his declaration of personal religious views was made without consultation with the Vatican and again when he said he hoped other countries would adopt a policy of separation of church and state.

Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., who is lending his personal support to Kennedy by traveling with the nominee in his intensive swing through Texas, summed up the reaction to this unusual campaign show.

"As we say in my part of Texas, he ate 'em blood raw, they only asked silly questions," said Rayburn who describes himself as a "hard shell" Baptist.

Kennedy said he regarded the result of his verbal joust with the Protestant clergy as satisfactory. He complimented the ministers for applauding some of his answers. He said he thought most of the questions fired at him were politely put.

Confident of Gains
When he touched down at Austin Monday night, Kennedy told a cheering airport crowd he thinks he has made some political hay in the state.

"I came to Texas with some trepidation and some concern," he said. "I read Vice President Nixon's statements about what he was going to do in Texas. I thought they might carry it. But now I know they are not."

In an opening statement, the Democratic nominee told the Houston ministers bluntly that a Catholic cannot be president because of his religion, then the freedoms of other churches are in danger.

"For while this year it may be a Catholic against whom the finger of suspicion is pointed, in other years, it has been and may be someday again a Jew, or a Quaker, or a Unitarian or a Baptist," he said. Nixon is a Quaker.

"I do not speak for my church on public matters—and the church does not speak for me," Kennedy said.

Obligated to None
"I believe in an America that is officially neither Catholic, Protestant nor Jewish—where no public official either requests or accepts instructions on public policy from the Pope, the National Council of Churches or any other ecclesiastical source—where no religious body seeks to impose its will directly or indirectly upon the general populace or the public acts of its officials—and where religious liberty is so indivisible that an act against one church is treated as an act against all," Kennedy said.

"I want a chief executive whose public acts are responsible to all groups and obligated to none—who can attend any ceremony, service or dinner his office may appropriately require of him—and whose fulfillment of his presidential oath is not limited or conditioned by any religious oath, ritual or obligation."

Financial Transactions

(Morgan Davis & Co.)

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved unevenly in extremely cautious and dull trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 216.70 with the industrials off .10, the rails off .20 and the utilities up .10.

The market was lower early in the session then began to show spotty firmness which left the number of gainers and losers about equal.

Wall Street still failed to get any new stimulus from the business and economic news.

Scattered gains were found among rubbers, autos, tobaccos, aircrafts, electronics and electrical equipments. Nonferrous metals and rails were mostly lower. Most groups were mixed.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .04 at 609.39. Both corporate and U.S. government bonds were irregular.

174,884 Reside In Dutchess Now

Dutchess County's population was reported to be 174,884 or 427 fewer residents than the 175,311 listed by the district office at Poughkeepsie at the end of the Spring count, according to preliminary figures released Monday by the Bureau of Census, Washington, D. C.

The new figures for the county represents an increase of 38,103 persons from the 1950 total of 136,781 residents, while the City of Poughkeepsie population shows a loss of 3,114 from the 41,023 in 1950. The city's population now is 37,909.

A. B. Graham founded the 4-H Club movement, largest rural youth organization in the U. S., at Springfield, Ohio.

Ex-FBI Man Will Probe Defections Of Two to Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Joseph F. Carroll, a former FBI man now inspector general of the Air Force, has been assigned by the Pentagon to investigate the defection to the Soviet Union of two National Security Agency employees.

The Defense Department announced that Carroll would conduct an intensive probe, probably lasting several months, of the flight of Bernon F. Mitchell and William H. Martin. The agency itself, engaged in communications and secret code work, also will come in for attention during the investigation, which will be independent of two House committee probes opening later this week.

The Pentagon announcement reaffirmed its contention that neither Mitchell nor Martin had any known record of homosexuality. But it said the department had been wrong in ruling out any other form of sexual abnormality.

A defense official said Mitchell, during screening before his employment by the security agency in 1957, admitted that "during his teens he had engaged in certain abnormal sexual practices." He gave no details.

Because Mitchell volunteered this information, he said, and because he gave assurances that the practice had not been repeated since his adolescence, he was not considered a potential security risk.

Homosexuals are classed as security risks because they might be subject to blackmail by foreign agents.

Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., repeated over the weekend his allegation that one of the two defectors was a "notorious homosexual."

The Defense Department said Carroll's task will be specifically concerned with how Mitchell and Martin made contact with Soviet agents and whether anyone else in the security agency was involved in their flight from this country.

Ryan Gets . . .

the defendant and at that time had advised him that "I thought it advantageous to you to go before the grand jury and tell the truth—*to think of yourself and family*and not politically or otherwise" but, the Court said, Ryan had not needed that advice and had not gone before the grand jury following contempt charges but had elected to re-form from telling a "complete" story. Although no "confront" or "regretful" spirit had been indicated, Justice Greenberg said he would give him a last opportunity to reveal the full facts.

Pleads for Consideration
In seeking consideration for defendant from the Court, Haver called attention to the fact that Ryan had already suffered severe punishment. He had not only been released from his position with the Welfare Department, lost a small insurance business he had but was not without means of income. Because Ryan had stood trial by jury rather than plead to the indictment, Haver said the court should impose no more severe sentence than that imposed on other defendants who had elected to plead guilty without trial.

During the discussion on severity of sentence, a misunderstanding between Haver, Special Prosecutor Tompkins and Justice Greenberg took place.

Haver said that Ryan had been willing to plead guilty at some point during the trial but his plea was "refused" by the prosecutor's office.

This brought protests from both the Court and Tompkins. It developed, when the misunderstanding was straightened out, that Ryan had been willing to enter a plea of guilty, provided he was assured to a suspended sentence. This Tompkins said he was unable to agree to since sentence was not a part of his authority, but sentence rested with the Court.

Special Assistant Attorney General Tompkins said his office held nothing against Ryan because he had taken advantage of every "legal means" to escape punishment. However, he opposed a suspension of sentence, and said Ryan had failed to cooperate and had never admitted a wrong. He cited the decision of the appellate court which said Ryan had followed a pattern of evasive answers and that his action was a "challenge to law and justice."

Gives Reply to Letter
Tompkins read a reply which he had sent to Mrs. Ryan in answer to a letter from her seeking leniency on the part of her husband. He expressed his sympathy but said the situation had been brought on by Ryan himself.

Prior to adjourning the case to Wednesday to allow Ryan an opportunity to talk before the grand jury, Justice Greenberg commented on the speed in which the trial returned its "guilty" verdict. He said two witnesses for the defense had "perjured themselves" but that was a matter for "another forum." In a final statement to give every consideration to defendant, Justice Greenberg said, he would adjourn the matter to Wednesday, the day the special grand jury will be in session.

Trusty Who Fled Green Haven Is Captured Tuesday

A 32-year-old Green Haven prison trusty, who escaped from an outside work detail Sunday, was captured without incident early Tuesday afternoon in a shack in the Town of Beekman between Sylvan Lake and the Taconic Parkway.

John Nestle, who is serving a prison term for attempted burglary in New York City as a second felony offender, told his captors that he entered the shack shortly after he fled from the prison grounds, to escape the fury of Hurricane Donna.

Authorities said Nestle was wearing clothes he said he found in the shack.

Warden Edward Fay said Nestle was attempting to make his way to Brooklyn where his mother and a brother reside, when he took shelter in the shack from the storm. The warden said search for the prisoner had been concentrated in the vicinity of the structure in which he was found by prison guards James Haley, William Orton and Joseph Pound and Donald Stebbins, a Matteawan State Hospital state correction officer.

Warden Fay said Nestle had served a previous sentence at Green Haven from 1953 to about 1957, and started his second term in 1959. Fay said Nestle was well behaved inside the prison and recently he was assigned as a trusty to work on the prison farm.

rock hills that Hudson Cement is quarrying, drilling and blasting. The petition notes that if the town board can't come through with an emergency act, it should ask county or state authorities for action to get relief from the so-called nuisances.

Those protesting ask that if the conditions are not remedied that an injunction be sought by the board against operation of the plant.

Signs are asked from the town board stating: "No trucks allowed over 5 tons—residential area." It is desired that they be erected at the entrance and exit to and from East Kingston, beginning on Main Street and ending on John Street at the bottom of the hill near the home of John Berardi.

Po'keepsie Firm Bids on Highland Weighing Station

Dutchess Quarry & Supply Company, Poughkeepsie submitted the high bid of $1,000 for truck weighing station equipment on Route 9W at Highland, the State Department of Public Works announced today. Three bids were received.

A total of 55 bids amounting to $19,733 were received for the sale and removal of the scale equipment and material located on various state highways and on scale parts stocked at the Department of Public Works' Albany warehouse.

The Poughkeepsie firm also was high bidder with $1,000 for equipment at Route 9, south of Fishkill. Two bids were received.

High bidder with $1,069 for the Route 9W station at Coxsack was Hudson River Concrete Products, Ravena. Five bids were received.

Safe Attempt Made

Police were notified Monday of an attempted safe burglary at the Chambers Street plant of the Seven Up Bottling Co., Inc. Entrance to the building was gained through a garage door on the Ann Street side. The attempt in the safe was made with tools found inside. Door hinges of the safe and its lock were damaged. Detective William Slover and Officer Louis Sapp were assigned to investigate.

Boating Industry Hits Shakeout Period

Q "I bought Glasspar at 25, and the stock is now down to 11. Should I sell or buy more at this low price, thinking it will go back up? Also bought Firth Sterling, and it is way down. What should I do?" — B. Y.

A To understand what has happened to Glasspar (OTC), one of the fiberglass boat producers, it might be helpful to cover briefly the present status of the pleasure boating field. The industry seems to have entered the familiar "shakeout" stage. By that I mean a period of consolidation when some of the weaker links, finding the going too rough, are absorbed by the larger firms. Also there is greater competition from widely diversified outfits which are not wholly dependent, as Glasspar is, on boat building revenues. Many of these firms have national distribution and enjoy a considerable advantage over the smaller companies.

Boating, of course, is one of our fastest growing sports — there are now some 7.8 million recreational craft against only 2.4 million in 1947. Today, one in every five American families participates in this sport. Yet, because boating is an absolute luxury, boat sales do not always increase the way expenditures for necessities do.

Since Glasspar became publicly owned in 1954, a large number of predominantly fiberglass boat builders have followed suit. The company's boat sales are still rising, but much keener competition has cut badly into profits. I think a comeback in Glasspar may be very slow, and I would get out of this situation. You might reinvest the proceeds in Dixon Chemical & Research (ASE), which I believe has better prospects. Firth Sterling (ASE), a specialty steel maker, is operating unprofitably. Little progress is evident, and dividends have been omitted since 1947. I suggest a switch to Cutter Laboratories (ASE), where comeback possibilities seem much better.

TIME TO SPECULATE?

It is a good time to speculate. Economic, social and political uncertainties around the world have made well-known common stocks temporarily unpopular. And their prices have tumbled down to buying levels.

Who should speculate and how? Investors with ample cash resources and a backlog of sound securities who are keenly interested in capital gains might devote 10 to 30 per cent of their funds to speculative equities. That is especially true if their income taxes are burdensome.

Chrysler is such an equity. Its president was fired 64 days after taking office. An internationally known law firm has been called in to investigate the inner operations of this big industrial enterprise. Lawsuits have been instituted by stockholders.

All this makes for bad reading in the newspapers. The stock is being heavily sold by investors who, psychologically, can't stand such gaff. In fact, liquidation of Chrysler common stock is being done illogically in many circles.

Today, the company has working capital of $320,000,000. The book value is around $79 a share after ample depreciation charges. For a company whose annual potential sales are around $3 billion (they were $3,500,000,000 in 1957), the common stock outstanding, 8,780,175 shares — is very small. The stock is selling $35 under sound book value.

The international petroleum equities are also depressed. In December, 1959, the directors of Standard Oil of New Jersey—the world's largest oil enterprise—voted to grant stock purchase options to about 700 leading Jersey executives under which they could buy about 700,000 shares of Jersey Oil at $49 1/4 a share.

At that time the option was valuable. Only 700 officials could participate. But less than ten months later any investor can buy the stock $7 under this option price. And the present yield on this equity is over 5 per cent.

The missile stocks have been in the doldrums. Yet I feel that speculation will soon come into them. They deserve such attention.

Boeing, Douglas, General Dynamics and Lockheed are four enterprises warranting the attention of speculators able to take risks for the sake of capital gains.

For the five years 1955-1959 Douglas did a total business of over $5 billion. Average per-share earnings after writing off the 1959 losses were over $4 a share. It is possible that during the 1960-1964 period this company is heading into another prosperous era.

Boeing is a giant whose common shares are attractive speculatively. In 1959, the company did a business of over $1,600,000,000 and 1960 will be another good year.

Likewise, General Dynamics and Lockheed, each doing more than a billion a year in volume and having relatively small common-stock capital structures are valuable. Only 700 officials could participate. But less than ten months later any investor can buy the stock $7 under this option price. And the present yield on this equity is over 5 per cent.

recreational craft against only 2.4 million in 1947. Today, one in every five American families participates in this sport. Yet, because boating is an absolute luxury, boat sales do not always increase the way expenditures for necessities do.

Since Glasspar became publicly owned in 1954, a large number of predominantly fiberglass boat builders have followed suit. The company's boat sales are still rising, but much keener competition has cut badly into profits. I think a comeback in Glasspar may be very slow, and I would get out of this situation. Hercules Names Tucker, Sleight To New Positions

Albert R. Ely, manager of Hercules Powder Company's Kenil, New Jersey Works since 1944, has been named assistant to the director of operations of the company's explosives department, it was announced today.

Replacing Ely as manager of the Kenil Works is Richard C. Tucker, former manager of Radford Arsenal, Radford, Va.

Bevier H. Sleight Jr. has been appointed manager of Radford Arsenal, moving to that post from his present position as manager of Sunflower Ordnance Works, Lawrence, Kan.

A native of Dover, N. J., Mr. Ely joined Hercules at the Kenil Ballistics Laboratory in 1914. A graduate of Pennsylvania State University with a BS in chemistry, he has had experience at many of the Hercules plants, as well as having been manager of the Service Division of the Explosives Department in the Wilmington office. In 1942 he returned to Kenil as smokeless powder superintendent, two years later being named plant superintendent. In 1950 his title at Kenil was changed to that of works manager. He is author of numerous technical articles on the manufacture and use of explosives.

Formerly With Local Plant
Tucker, a graduate of North Carolina State College with an MS degree in chemical engineering, joined Hercules in 1933 as a chemist. After four years' service at Port Ewen, during which time he became assistant chief operations supervisor, he transferred to Kenil as a smokeless powder supervisor. From 1938 to 1957 he served in Wilmington, at Radford Arsenal, Sunflower Ordnance Works, and Port Ewen. In 1958 he was named works manager of Radford Arsenal, the position he held at the time of his new appointment.

Sleight, newly appointed manager at Radford, is a graduate of Washington and Jefferson College with a BS in chemistry. He joined Hercules in 1938 at Port Ewen, transferring in 1941 to Kenil. He worked subsequently at Radford, Sunflower, and Port Ewen before returning to Sunflower in 1951 as smokeless powder superintendent, a position he held until 1954 when he was appointed production manager. In 1956 he was named assistant manager of the Sunflower facility, and in 1957 he became manager.

Youth Director Resigns Y Post

The personnel committee of the Kingston YMCA board of directors today announced that it had accepted with regret the resignation of Frank Rebollo, who for the past five years was the YMCA youth director. The resignation is to become effective September 24 as announced by Arthur W. Patterson, board president.

Rebollo's work comprised the organizing of clubs for boys, the teaching of swimming and life saving, the promotion and directing of Hi-Y clubs for high school boys and girls, as well as the administration of youth parties and dances. He also promoted combination parent and child programs for the furtherance of the World Service work in foreign countries. He promoted many bus trips to educational and historical spots in the Hudson Valley, Massachusetts and Connecticut, as well as many other YMCA activities.

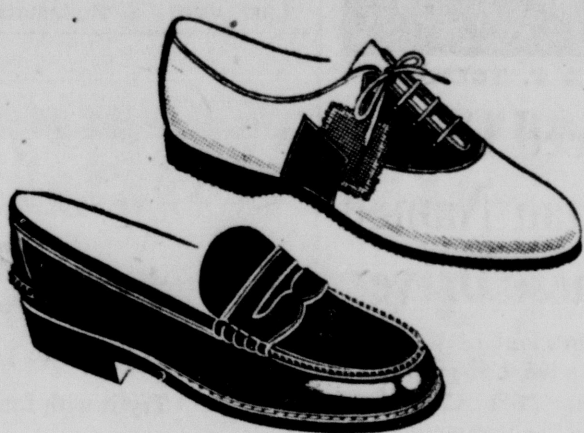

The YMCA Personnel Committee is now contacting directors in other cities to fill the vacancy. It is hoped that a successor can be named soon, as the indoor fall and winter program is about to go into operation. Louis H. Schafer, general secretary and Richard W. Case, physical director will plan the promotional work until a new youth director is named.

Advanced Gifts
Chairman Named
For Chest Drive

The appointment of Walter T.
Tremper as advanced gifts chairman in this fall's Community Chest appeal was announced by Harold H. Heider, campaign chairman.

Tremper represents the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company in Ulster County. He is active with Rip VanWinkle Council of Boy Scouts and is vice-chairman of Ulster County
In the past several years, he has held leadership positions in Community Chest appeals and has also served as general chairman of the Ulster County Red Cross drive.

The Advanced Gifts Division is responsible for contacting Kingston area citizens whose past gifts have been pace setters and have shown the greatest interest, concern and generosity to the member agencies of the Community Chest.

Serving with Tremper as co-chairman is William E. Ryalnce, president of William Ryalnce & Sons, Inc. The advance gifts workers are: Chester A. Baltz Sr., William W. Brady Jr., Clarence H. Buddenhagen, Arthur J.
Burns, Arthur B. Ewig, Ellis H.
Griffith, John H. Haulenbeck,
George Kernochan, Minford A.
Overfield, Stuart S. Randall,
Richard F. Riseley, Sam Scudder, George N. Shavery, Clifford
A. Smith and Abraham Streifer.

Seventy-eight per cent of restaurant customers cited food as the prime attraction for eating out, with 75 per cent mentioning service and 57 per cent appearance and atmosphere.

Mixed Group Is Against Talking Religious Issue

NEW YORK (AP) — Setting class against class, race against race and religion against religion is a vicious practice repugnant to all Americans, says a group of 100 Protestant, Jewish and Catholic leaders.

The group called on their organizations to oppose any attempts to make religious affiliation the basis of voter's choice in the presidential campaign.

They called their statement, made Sunday, "an attempt to extract a higher ethic regarding religion and politics that would be applicable to the practical considerations of the current presidential campaign."

Last week, a Protestant group led by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale issued a statement which said a Roman Catholic president would be "under extreme pressure by the hierarchy of his church."

Dr. Peale, a supporter of Republican presidential nominee
Richard M. Nixon, said later, however, that the public agitation of religion as an issue in the campaign would be "in the long run harmful to our country."

Nixon is a Quaker and his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F.
Kennedy, is a Catholic.

The Sunday statement's signers included the Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger, presiding bishop, Protestant Episcopal Church; Methodist bishops G. Bromley Oxnam of Scarsdale, N.Y., William C.

Martin of Dallas, Tex., and Lloyd
C. Wicke of New York; Archbishop Iakovos of the Greek Orthodox Church; Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston; Reinhold Niebuhr of Union Theological Seminary, New York; Rabbi William F. Rosenbloom, former president of the Synagogue Council of America.

NEW YORK (AP)—Film actor Jack Lemmon is in New York preparing for his first stage appearance since 1953. Lemmon is to star in the Robert L. Joseph play, "Face of a Hero," slated to open at the Eugene
O'Neill Theater Oct. 20.

Can't Beat Gas Heat for ECONOMY

Count up ALL the costs — you'll discover that good gas heat costs no more than less desirable fuels. Ask a neighbor who uses Natural Gas heat — chances are he'll tell you that equipment costs less to buy, install, and maintain. He'll say that equipment life is extra-long, that Natural Gas burns cleanly and his burner operates silently. We'll bet that he'll give Natural Gas heat a thorough endorsement!

Donna Kills . . .

ped off a section near a washed out bridge. Greenleaf and Pack watched helplessly as Alle was carried down the swollen stream.

Deputy Sheriff James Scarey said there was 10 feet of water in the main street of Windham at the time Alle disappeared.

Shortly before 11 a. m. the sheriff's office reported Alle's body had been recovered.

4 Bridges Out

Chief Deputy Jeanne told The Freeman that four bridges were out as the result of rushing water. Two of the spans were of concrete and steel structure. Jeanne said they collapsed.

Jeanne said sheriff's deputies were dispatched to the State Police barracks at Leeds to evacuate four troopers on duty there. The troopers returned to the section about 5:30 a. m. today after the flooding abated.

The sheriff's office at Catskill reported last night that only one foot bridge was passable at Windham.

Calls to the Kingston police and fire departments were reported the heaviest since the destructive eastern seaboard and inland storm of 1938.

71 Trees Fall

Charles J. Cole, public works superintendent, said the count of fallen trees involving city streets up until this morning was 71. Many limbs, heavy and light, were scattered over streets in several wards.

Damage was heaviest, he said, in the Second and Third Wards, less heavy in the 12th and First Wards, and lightest in the Sixth, Seventh and 13th Wards. Large trees were cropped off by the wind at Pearl Street and Clinton Avenue, Albany and Tremper Avenues, Foxhall Avenue and Grand Street, Lincoln and Grant, Walnut and Gill, Clifton Avenue and Lincoln Street.

75 Work All Night

A public works force of 75 men worked through the night, Cole said, and continued clean-up work through the week will delay the street construction program several days.

A partially uprooted tree on Presidents Place was still in a dangerous condition today. It shattered newly laid pavement and curbing.

An unknown number of trees were felled on private property and in areas away from streets.

Logging of telephone calls to the police and fire departments read like listings in the street section of the city directory, but calls for actual fires were few. Firemen answered a call at 2:49 p. m., to the house of John Ziros, 3 Lindsley Avenue, where electric line trouble caused smoke in the attic.

An alarm was sounded at 3:19 p. m., from Box 3311, West Chestnut Street and Jarvis Avenue, where wires had fallen. Many wires fell in nearly all areas of the city, and Deputy Fire Chief George D. Matthews, acting for Chief James M. Brett, who is at a convention, issued a general alert call at 2:22 p. m.

As it had been all along its course, the storm continued heavily destructive in northeastern states, but it was less costly than that of 1938 and two or three which followed that. Public Works Superintendent Cole said a department employee recalled that some 700 trees were felled in the 1938 storm and countless electric lines became involved.

Warnings Given

Warnings from both police and fire headquarters emphasized the danger of fallen and broken electric lines and the general advice was to remain indoors until the storm subsided.

Police continued receiving calls reporting burning of fallen wires through the late afternoon and late in the night. A few calls were also received this morning. A flood condition on East Union Street was reported Monday afternoon. The rain, although heavy throughout most of the day, however, caused no serious flood conditions in the city.

Reports on Rainfall

The rain gauge at City Hall recorded rainfall Sunday as .65 of an inch, Monday 3.19 inches.

Clifford Camright, operator at the Kingston City reservoir at Cooper Lake in Lake Hill said rainfall at the lake Sunday was 2.60 and Monday 3.13 inches. At Mink Hollow, Sunday's rainfall was 2.90, Monday 3.35 inches.

Louis Sable of 337 Broadway reported that a large tree in his driveway fell on his station wagon. The Third Ward World War II memorial lost its roof to the wind and the columns collapsed. Walter W. Phillips, president, said a window was shattered at the Kingston Model Railroad Club, 541 Broadway and the miniature railroad near the opening was drenched.

Power Lines Damaged

Joseph J. Benjamin, Central Hudson's resident manager, Kingston, reported 20,000 customers were affected by power failures due to falling trees, limbs and poles. He said three transmission lines were knocked out of service by breaking.

Central Hudson crews, including every available worker, were on the job throughout the night restoring service. Mr. Benjamin said that in the Kingston area, taking in the city and an area south of the city, Saugerties, Woodstock, Zena, Sawkill, Veteran, West Camp and some other areas, about 4,000 customers were without service until repairs were made.

Working on Repairs

Today about 1,000 customers in the Kingston area were still without power. Central Hudson officials hope to have service restored in all areas, with exception of isolated or remote areas by tonight.

"We realize the inconveniences our customers experienced due to the hurricane, and we hope they will extend to us their full cooperation until normal service is restored," Benjamin said.

Power failures forced the clo-

Hurricane Donna was too much for this giant maple on West Pierpont Street, east of Hone Street. The heavy wind forced it to let go, tearing up sidewalk as it leaned toward house.

Saugerties Accidents

Saugerties Village police reported a three-car mishap during the storm, trees down, some on homes and cars, and power lines endangering traffic on village streets.

Sgt. Harold Mills reported a three-car accident at 3:45 p. m. Monday at Ulster Avenue and Cross Street, involving three teen-age youths. All three cars were damaged, however no one was reported injured, Sgt. Mills said.

Drivers of the cars were Ronald Gambino, 17 of 65 Livingston Street, in a 1959 two-door sedan owned by John Gambino; Douglas A. Robinson, 17 of 185 Washington Avenue in a 1950 coupe, and David A. Sheeder, 17 of Blue Mountain in a 1953 sedan.

According to Sgt. Mills, the Robinson vehicle traveling west on Ulster Avenue and stopped at the intersection to turn into Cross Street. The Sheeder car also traveling west saw the stop lights, tried to stop but skidded on wet pavement into the rear of the Robinson car. The force pushed the Robinson car into the Gambino sedan coming from the other direction on Ulster Avenue, village police reported.

Trees Fall on Homes

Village police reported trees fell on the homes of Mr. and Mrs. John Robbins of Market Street, and Mr. and Mrs. William Kellogg of Barclay Street, also on the car of Mrs. K. G. Blundell of Barclay Street.

Robbins, an official of Saugerties Savings Bank said two weeping willows uprooted and fell against his house causing only minor damage. He said no windows were broken and no water leaks were immediately in evidence.

Mrs. Kellogg at Barclay Lane said a huge ash tree fell across the peak of the roof hitting the TV antenna and striking the chimney. She said a tree also fell in the yard on the Kellogg boat which was brought up from the creek a few days before.

Village police also reported wires down on Washington Avenue and Barclay Street.

Patrolman Donald Sullivan said this morning that the storm felled a large tree on Post Street near St. Mary's Church. The tree fell partially in the church yard and knocked down some headstones in the cemetery, Sullivan said.

Other trees reported down by Sgt. Mills were at West Bridge Street, and Simmons Street.

Areas Without Lights

Lights were reported out in various parts of the village, Glasco, Barclay Heights, Malden, West Camp and Cemenon along Route 9W. The highway was covered with broken branches which made driving hazardous. Some telephone lines were also out in the West Camp-Evesport area.

Most meetings throughout the Saugerties area were postponed. However, a few with emergency arrangements held sessions and activities despite the weather.

C. A. Lynch volunteer firemen of the village set up a portable generator to provide lights for their meeting held in the firehouse on Theodore Place.

A little more than half of the members of Catskill Glee Club attended the annual kick-off dinner at West Camp Parish Hall served by candlelight.

Busy All Night

Saugerties Town Highway Superintendent William R. Brown reported his department had been busy all through the night and this morning clearing trees from town roads.

Town highway department crews cleared a tree yesterday from across old Route 212 in Veteran and another along the Asbury Road near Trinka's Bathing Beach.

Brown said crews were working this morning on a huge tree which fell across Old School Road near the schoolhouse in Asbury. He said a weeping willow tree fell on the former Hennessy residence in West Saugerties. However the extent of damage was not reported.

The highway superintendent said no bridges or roads were washed out in the Saugerties Township, however limbs across the roads made driving dangerous last night.

Flooded With Calls

Kingston state police telephone lines were flooded with calls about falling trees and utility cables down, according to Sgt. A. F. Matuljak. No injuries or fatalities were reported in the area, he said.

The raging brown-colored water of the Esopus at Glenier Falls, swollen by heavy rains, was not quite at spring flood level but was observed over the banks in many places.

In Cemenon, just across Ulster County's northern boundary, Cemenon Sportsmen's Association suffered a severe setback with their plans for a club house.

The 40 by 80 foot club house building which was framed up suffered serious damage, according to Raymond Lang, secretary.

Lang said heavy winds knocked down the framing, studs and roof rafters of the building situated opposite the baseball field off Route 9W in that Greene County community.

He estimated damage at about $10,000. Lang said the west wall collapsed when the foundation was undermined by the heavy rain. He said work on the club house had started in June and was being undertaken by about 50 of the 250 members of the association.

Saugerties volunteer firemen reported to fire stations for emergency service and remained on stand-by in areas where phones and lights were out.

Phone Service Out

Telephone service in the Kingston area was disrupted by the storm when approximately 2,100 customers found their phones dead. Harold H. Heider, manager of the Kingston District, said calls began to come in about 3 p. m. Monday of interruption and as the winds increased calls came flooding in.

Construction and maintenance forces worked throughout the night and early this morning the interruptions had been limited to approximately 1,600 customers. It was expected all service would be restored today.

Most of the interruptions were caused by falling trees and branches which carried down telephone lines and cables and the trouble was general throughout the area. Much of the difficulty was with long distance lines and in many instances customers could not use long distance lines but were able to communicate locally.

Windham Isolated

Windham was isolated for some 24 hours between 6 p. m. and 8:45 p. m. when high water caused evacuation of the Windham office. Temporary quarters were set up on higher ground and local service was maintained until receding waters made it possible to return to the office.

Prattsville, Lexington and Jewett also in Greene County were without toll service although local service was maintained.

The Rosendale area was isolated for a short period Monday afternoon and outgoing toll calls were halted when a main cable went out. However, emergency calls were rerouted from Rosendale through High Falls within a short period and for a couple of hours this system was used until repairs were completed.

Because of the great many power lines which were carried down by the storm, telephone employees were delayed in making repairs in such areas until the power lines had been cleared or power turned off. This precaution is taken to protect the lives of the crewmen.

Newburgh Ferry Stops

Because of the choppy river and gale-like winds, officials of the Newburgh - Beacon Ferry stopped all service across the Hudson until the storm subsided. Commuters who normally use the ferry were advised to use the Mid-Hudson, Bear Mountain or the other spans operated by the State Bridge Authority.

The Dutchess County sheriff's office said an unestimated number of river craft broke from moorings off Poughkeepsie and were swept by the tide. Some of the craft were retrieved by the owners or volunteers who ventured out on the river.

Poughkeepsie police reported approximately 65 trees or large limbs were uprooted or snapped off by the winds. Town of Poughkeepsie police said about 20 trees were felled and some blocked roads and highways of the area until highway crews removed them.

Off duty firemen and police in the Town of Poughkeepsie and the city were ordered back to duty to direct traffic and guide motorists and pedestrians safely past fallen electric wires.

Streets throughout Dutchess County were littered with tree limbs that were snapped off.

Authorities banned house trailers from using the State Thruway during the height of the storm as a safety measure. The order extended from New York City to Herkimer.

State, county and city highway crews worked until about midnight clearing the highways of debris. The county highway department reported flood conditions on Springtown Road, which had abated today.

Report on Apples

The apple crop in the southern Hudson valley was hard hit by the winds of Hurricane Donna.

Niles M. Davies Jr., of Congers, Rockland County, said that a survey after the storm showed the wind blew from 60 to 100 per cent of the apples from trees.

At the Montella farm in the Highland area conditions were not as alarming. It was reported there that about 25 per cent of the fruit was blown from trees, a number of which were uprooted by the heavy wind.

Probe Continues

Investigation of a burglary at the Floyd Forcier Service station on Route 9G, Town of Hyde Park, was continued today by authorities, who reported the intruder gained entrance by smashing a window. Dutchess County Sheriff C. Fred Close said $148.60 was taken from the cash register last Friday night or early Saturday.

HST Digs at Khrush

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman, who said a few days ago that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "can fall in the Atlantic Ocean as far as I'm concerned," added more tart comment today.

"Too bad Khrushchev didn't come in yesterday," he said referring to Hurricane Donna. "That would have been a fine welcome for him."

As for where the liner Baltika should dock—"They ought to tie it up at the Battery and let him walk to the United Nations." The distance is four miles.

Volcano Erupts

TOKYO (AP)—Mt. Mihara, one of Japan's most active "suicide" volcanoes, erupted twice today, sending smoke 1,000 feet into the air. The 2,477-foot peak, 74 miles south of Tokyo is a famous tourist attraction. Each year some visitors hurl themselves into the crater.

Queens Man Is Speared by Rail As Car Careens

BENNINGTON, Vt. (AP) — George R. Selig, 53, of Hollis, N. Y., was killed Monday when a guard rail knifed through a car and speared him.

Selig was riding in the rear seat of the car when it careened off Route 7, snapped a telephone pole and then struck the guard rail.

His wife, Edith, 48, and his 17-year-old son, Donald, were hospitalized. Their conditions are reported as fair.

The family was on its way to the University of Vermont where Donald was to begin as a freshman.

Hollis is in Queens.

The distance between the earth and the sun varies as much as three million miles.

Tavern's Stolen Register Is Found At W. Saugerties

A cash register stolen with $53 in coins and bills early Thursday morning from Katsbaan Tavern, Old Kings Highway, was found empty about four miles away, along the West Saugerties Road, Kingston state police reported today.

The cash register was found by Saugerties Town Constable Charles Riley, and turned over to state police.

Trooper Charles Teelon, BCI reported the register with $53 in cash was stolen by burglars who pushed in the back door.

Everett Merz, owner of the tavern said entry was made some time between 1 and 7 a. m. He said the intruders evidently tried to open the register in the picnic grove behind the tavern with a black-handled screw driver which was left at the scene.

GOP Best Hope For Peace: Nixon

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon today resumed his cross-country drive for votes on the theme that the Republican ticket offers the best hope of maintaining "peace without surrender" in the continuing years of crisis.

That, he is saying at every stop in his state-by-state battle for the presidency, is the overriding issue in his contest with Sen. John F. Kennedy, and the one on which he is willing to rest his case with the people.

The GOP nominee delayed his takeoff for speeches in Oregon, Washington and Idaho long enough to schedule a news conference at the Hotel St. Francis and a talk dedicating—as President Eisenhower's representative—the SS Hope, a floating medical center and training school, soon to be steaming to Indonesia.

Nixon predicted victory in Texas as for the Republican national ticket when he spoke before a roaring crowd of more than 9,000 in the Memorial Auditorium in Dallas after pushing his smiling way with his wife, Pat, along streets lined with tens of thousands of well-wishers.

There, Monday afternoon, as he did in a speech in Union Square here Monday night before a police-estimated crowd of 40,000, and as he did at Baltimore and Indianapolis earlier in the day, Nixon declared:

"The major issue—the overriding issue must be which of the candidates offers the type of leadership that gives the best chance to keep the peace without surrender and extend freedom throughout the world."

Security Only Reason

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today limiting of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's movements to Manhattan Island on his U. N. visit was "purely in the interest of security."

Press secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference that was the only reason for the action, which has been criticized by various individuals, including Eleanor Roosevelt.

Hagerty said critics seem to have lost sight of the agreement between this country and the United Nations concerning the security of foreign visitors to the U. N.

Red Bosses May Make It Embarrassing For Eisenhower to Keep Quiet Too Long

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower can hardly avoid getting mixed up in one of America's most fantastic weeks—next week—when seven unabashed, uninvited and uninvited Communist bosses perform in New York.

The Sept. 20 opening of the United Nations General Assembly there will bring together the greatest collection of overseas big names that ever got loose in this country at one time in one place.

assments for the United States, with perhaps more trouble coming. The Red rulers act like men who think they're riding high.

There's no reason to think they won't try to spur their horses when they get here.

In addition to Premier Nikita Khrushchev — and the leaders of six other Russian satellite countries in Europe — other big-name visitors include the presidents of Egypt and Yugoslavia and perhaps dictator Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic.

Just protecting them from enemies will be a gigantic job.

Forum for Attacks

But since all the visitors will be free to use the United Nations as a forum for attacking the United States from inside the United States — and some undoubtedly will — Eisenhower may have to meet them head on with fast, new American foreign policy decisions.

As of now he has shown reluctance about getting tangled in a brawl, apparently preferring to wait until Khrushchev and his companions speak their pieces and get out.

They may make it too embarrassing for him to keep quiet.

None of the 10 big-name visitors was invited. None had to be. Since all 10 of their countries are U. N. members, all are free to come to the U. N. headquarters in New York and say what they please.

Two Playing It Neutral

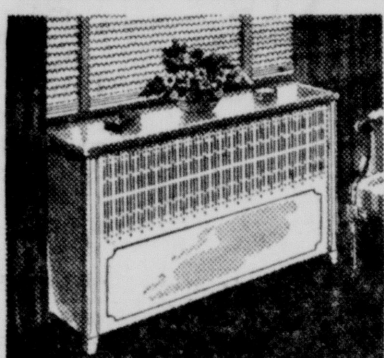

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser and Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito are playing neutral.

They probably won't start a fire. Trujillo, recently rebuffed by the United States and his Latin neighbors, might cut up a bit.

But with this collection of men, and their varying ambitions, anything can happen and probably will.

Here are some of the things which have already happened to the discomfiture of this country in 4½ months:

The American U2 spy plane was shot down over Russia May 1. Khrushchev used this as an excuse to wreck the summit conference, insult Eisenhower, and call off his trip to Russia.

The Russians also shot down another American plane, the RB47 jet bomber, taking two of its six-man crew alive. Khrushchev created a world spectacle of the United States, to its embarrassment, by putting U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers on trial and sentencing him to 10 years.

Steppin on Berlin

In Tokyo Japanese Communists and other anti-American left-wing groups teamed up in such violent demonstrations that they forced their government to call off Eisenhower's trip to Japan and got rid of the premier.

In Laos, heavily pro-American and considered a bulwark against communism in Southeast Asia, the government was overturned.

Right in America's back yard Cuba's Fidel Castro pulled his country closer to Russia and Red China while stepping up his violent denunciations of America.

There was chaos in the Congo, with the Russians inching into the heart of Africa with help and technicians.

Now, just as Khrushchev's ship heads for the United States, the Communists are stepping up the pressure on West Berlin, the city they have wanted to take over ever since Stalin's blockade in the 1940s failed.

Mitchell Plans
Railroad Talks

LO SANGELES (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell says he'll meet in Chicago Wednesday with management and union officials to discuss appointment of a commission to study operating practices on America's railroads.

Railroad unions and management and the government will be represented on the commission. Labor-management disputes will be suspended for the duration of the study, Mitchell said Monday.

"I regard the acceptance by both sides of the commission idea as one of the most significant events in industrial relations," he said.

Mitchell disclosed the plan to newsmen while here to address a convention of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers International Union.

MEXICO'S SESQUICENTENNIAL — Tremendous stone statue of Father Jose Maria Morelos, one of the leaders of Mexico's War of Independence, will be covered with flowers and wreaths when the 150th anniversary of the country's independence from Spain officially opens Sept. 16. The country's 32,000,000 people have been preparing for the event for a year. The 80-foot statue was constructed 25 years ago. It stands on the Island of Patzcuaro.

Executive Fined
$15,000 in $70,000
Tax Evasion Case

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A plastics company executive has been fined $15,000 in a $70,000 federal income tax evasion.

Federal Judge Harold P. Burke also ordered a two-year suspended sentence Monday for James F. Burnett, Jr., president of the James Burnett Co., of Rochester. Burnett pleaded guilty to tax evasion July 27.

The government said Burnett's personal income for 1957 was $116,000 and he owed $63,270 in taxes. He claimed his income was $42,967 and paid $16,000 the government charged.

The government also charged he paid $26,474 in corporate taxes for the year when he owed $50,715.

Much of B&O's
Stock Unpledged

CLEVELAND (AP) — After 11 weeks of competition between Chesapeake & Ohio Railway and New York Central Railroad to gain control of Baltimore & Ohio Railroad common stock, more than half of B.O.'s common shares still are unpledged to either side.

This was disclosed late Monday when C.O. directors met here and reported more than 26 per cent of B.O.'s common stock had been voted in favor of the stock offer made by C.O. June 14.

The deadline for acceptance of the offer was to have been Monday, but the directors extended it to Nov. 20.

About the same time in Washington, L. W. Horning, a New York Central vice president, told a news conference Central's exchange offer, which expires Sept. 26, had attracted a little less than a 20 per cent commitment from B.O. share holders.

Horning predicted neither company will get control of the B.O. in the near future. He emphasized again that Central "is ready at any time to sit down and work out a merger of all three lines."

In Baltimore, Howard I. Simpson, president of the 133-year-old B.O., expressed disappointment at the C.O. offer extension. He said he felt the extension "only continues the period of indecision." He added that the C.O. directors' action was an indication C.O. was "not interested in a prompt merger, but only desires to control B.O."

Simpson said the situation would be discussed at a B.O. board meeting in New York City Sept. 21.

Share owners of C.O. are scheduled to meet here Wednesday to approve the exchange offer their directors made and its extension.

The C.O. has offered a share of C.O. common stock for each share of B.O. preferred stock and a share of C.O. common for each 1½ shares of B.O. common. Chessie common closed Monday at 61.

The N.Y.C. offer — made June 28 — is 1½ shares of its common and $9 in cash for each share of B.O. common. Central seeks to buy 1,550,000 B.O. common shares, but has made no offer for B.O. preferred. New York Central stock closed Monday at 19½, and B.O. at 29½.

Inmates to Get Medical Exams
Before Jailing

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Prisoners in Albany County Jail, where an inmate died last April from diabetes, will be given medical examinations before being imprisoned.

The County Board of Supervisors voted Monday night to appropriate $3,700 to conduct the examinations for the remainder of the year.

James Lott, 32, died in the jail. The State Correction Commission, after an investigation, said Lott's death could have been prevented by proper medical care.

The investigation was launched after fellow prisoners complained Lott was left to die by his jailers.

Man Who Headed
Narcotics Ring
Draws 7 Years

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Joseph A. Moses, head of an alleged narcotics ring rounded up by federal agents here in February, has drawn a seven year prison sentence.

Federal Judge John O. Henderson sentenced Moses Monday after he had pleaded guilty to one count of conspiracy to sell heroin.

Moses and his wife, Rose, 30, were among 16 persons arrested after a federal grand jury returned a record 2,553-count indictment. Moses was named in 1,289 counts.

They were tried together in May on charges of conspiracy to sell and smuggle heroin but the trial ended in a deadlocked jury.

The other 1,288 counts against Moses were dismissed by Judge Henderson Monday on a defense motion.

Two others of the 16 have already been sentenced to six years. Two more pleaded guilty to similar charges and are awaiting sentence.

Area Girls Earn Credits at Elmira

Two area girls are among eight members of the incoming freshman class at Elmira College to receive credit or advanced placement for special college level work completed in high school.

They are Miss Suzanne Bassett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bassett of Pencil Hill, New Paltz, and Miss Judith Schwarz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schwarz of Box 83, RD 1, Stone Ridge.

The Advanced Placement Program, a nationwide activity of the College Entrance Examination Board, helps high schools set up some college-level courses for qualified students and prepares examinations to test their achievement. The examination papers are forwarded to the college where the student has been accepted, and the college decides whether the student should receive credit or advanced placement. In some cases a successful student will receive credit toward a college diploma for the course; in others the student is exempt from taking the freshman course in that subject and is placed in an advanced class.

Elmira College accepts for credit or advanced placement students who have scored "C" or better in these examinations.

REUNITED AFTER 40 YEARS—A Kingston mother was reunited this weekend with her son, who she had not seen for 40 years, since he left for Europe during World War I with the American Expeditionary Forces. The reunion was held at the home of the mother, Mrs. Mary Clark of 69 Spruce Street, who resides with one of her daughters, Mrs. Mary Godwin. Attending the gathering were (l-r) seated, Mrs. Clark and her son, James Moore of San Francisco, Calif.; standing, Mrs. Dorothy Manella of East Bridge Street, Saugerties, another daughter; Mrs. Moore, and Mrs. Godwin. Mrs. Manella through persistent inquiries with the Veterans Administration and the Social Security office learned that her brother was living in San Francisco. The family lost contact when the mother and daughters moved here from Brooklyn. (Freeman photo)

MRS. ALLAN LEWIS LEVINSON (Photo Workshop)

Miss Catherine Weltha Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Wright of 20 Brinks Lane, Hurley, wed Allan Lewis Levinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Levinson of 6 Browning Terrace, this city, on Saturday, Sept. 10 at 8:30 p. m.

Officiating was Rabbi Jacob I. Rubenstein of Ahavath Israel. James Sweeney was organist and Mrs. Harold Shorr, soloist, sang "Because," and "I Love Thee."

The wedding ceremony and reception were held in the Governor Clinton Hotel. The bride and bridegroom were escorted by their parents past aisle baskets of white gladioli and mums to a canopy decorated with flowers and greens. The bride wore a gown of pure silk in modified princess style with an Empire bodice, long sleeves which tapered to points over the wrists and a scooped neckline outlined with hand clipped Alencon lace motifs. The softly pleated skirt terminated in a circular court length train. A princess crown of tiny seed pearls secured the French illusion fingertip veil. She carried a semi-crescent bouquet of white roses, swansonias and an orchid.

Miss Elizabeth Crossman of Kerhonkson, as maid of honor, wore a cotillion blue ballerina length gown of silk organza styled with a fitted bodice, shirred sleeves and a draped

NOT TO HER LIKING

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I were invited to dinner at the house of one of his business associates. The main course was roast beef which was served quite rare. The host carved and put a large slice of beef on my plate. Much as I like roast beef I could not bring myself to eat it so I asked the host if I might have another piece that was less rare. My husband criticized me later for having done this and said that I showed very bad manners. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?

Answer: Usually a host serving roast beef asks of his guests whether he (or she) would prefer a well done or rare slice. Not having been asked, it was entirely proper to say to the host as soon as you saw the slice that was being given to you, "Oh, if that's for me, could I have a piece that's a little better done?"

Choosing a Wedding Anniversary Present

Dear Mrs. Post: Does one have to buy an item that typifies a particular wedding anniversary—such as something in silver for a twenty-fifth wedding anniversary or gold for a fiftieth anniversary? Don't you think it would make more sense to buy something you know for sure would be more acceptable, regardless of what year they are celebrating?

Answer: I certainly agree that it makes far more sense to buy something you know the anniversary couple will like rather than something they would not like just because it typifies the particular anniversary.

Finding Other Guests Present
Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me when going to visit a friend in the afternoon and you find that she has other guests, is it proper for the unexpected visitor to stay, or should she take her leave as soon as possible?

Answer: If they are playing bridge, or seem to have been having a conversation that you are interrupting, you should make some excuse and leave. But if the conversation in general and you are made welcome, you may stay.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-26, entitled "Serving Cocktails," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. Home Extension Service News

Lenore Clemshaw, assistant home demonstration agent of the Ulster County Extension Service, submits the following:

Look in your refrigerator! Do you have soem chicken there you would like to do something a little different with? Chances are you may. Chicken has been and will continue to be an economical buy at this time of year. It would seem as if there is many a warm day left when a cool jellied chicken salad will look mighty good to your family. This one is made ingeniously with a package of chicken noodle soup mix. The soup mix makes a delicious chicken broth that gives your jellied moulde a decided chicken flavor. This is an inexpensive as well as easy way to make chicken broth with a fresh home-cooked flavor. Keep this in mind for other recipes calling for chicken broth.

It is made by stirring the soup mix into boiling water. When it is done strain the noodles and reserve the broth.

The noodles may be served as a side dish buttered and seasoned with pepper and salt. For a piquant touch, try adding a teaspoon of caraway seeds.

Jellied Chicken Salad

1 package chicken noodle soup mix
3 cups boiling water
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 (9 ounce) can (1 cup) pineapple tidbits, drained
2 cups diced cooked chicken
1/2 cup chopped celery
3/4 cup chopped green peppers
3 stuffed green olives, sliced
Strain and reserve the chicken broth from the soup mix. Soften the gelatin in cold water for five minutes; dissolve in hot broth. Add the lemon juice and salt; then chill until mixture is partially set. Stir pineapple, chicken, and vegetables into the gelatin. Pour mixture carefully over sliced olives which have been placed in a 1 1/2 quart mold. Chill. Serve on salad greens. Makes 6 servings.

For other new and interesting recipe ideas drop into our office at 220 Wall Street. We'll be glad to see you.

World Cooperation Is Theme of Hadassah Convention; Local Delegates Are Named

Mrs. Jay Melton, Overlook Drive, and Mrs. Sidney Treinkman, 2 Hemlock Street, are representing the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah at the 46th national convention of the organization at the Wakarusa-Astoria, New York City.

Mrs. Melton is president of the local chapter, while Mrs. Treinkman serves as second vice president. More than 2,500 delegates, representing 318,000 members throughout the country, have gathered for the conference, which opened Sunday and closes Wednesday.

Speaking at the opening session were Dr. Miriam Freund, president of the women's Zionist organization; Bruce McDaniel, former administrator of the United States Operations Missions in Israel; and Abraham Harman, Israel ambassador to the U.S.

Theme of the convention is "New Vistas for World Cooperation." Also scheduled to speak are Michael Comay, permanent representative to the United Nations from Israel; Dr. Kalman Mann, director-general of the Hadassah Medical Organization; Dr. Robert Gordis, consultant for the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions at Santa Barbara, Calif.; and Moshe Kol, world head of Youth Aliyah, international agency for the relief of underprivileged Jewish children and their rehabilitation in Israel. Hadassah is official representative of Youth Aliyah in the U.S. and its largest single contributor.

Delegates attending Sunday's session heard a report from Mrs. Benjamin Gottesman, national treasurer, stating that the organization had raised $10 million over the past year for its social service and medical projects in Israel. Services include a hospital network of diagnostic, curative and preventative medical care, health stations, vocational education and land reclamation. Hadassah's major undertaking this year is completion of the $25 million Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center outside Jerusalem. The center will consolidate all medical facilities including a 500-bed teaching hospital, outpatient department, the only medical school in the country a mother-and-child pavilion, a school of nursing and a complex of laboratories and research centers. It replaces the Mount Scopus installation, now behind the Arab lines.

In the United States, Hadassah conducts an intensive American

Benedictine Hospital Awards 20 Diplomas To Graduating Nurses; Scholarship Given

The Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing graduated 20 students on Sunday, Sept. 4 with commencement exercises held at St. Mary's Church in Kingston. The Rev. John C. Cannon, B. A., assistant pastor, St. Monica's Church, New York City, gave an eloquent and appropriate main address.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, P.A.V.F., Dean of Ulster and Sullivan Counties and president of the Advisory Board of the Benedictine Hospital, presented the diplomas to the graduates.

Miss Phyllis Madajewski was awarded the Sister M. Aloysia Scholarship of $300 for further study given by the Nurses Alumnae Association and the Ladies Auxiliary of Benedictine Hospital. This award is given to the student who has maintained the highest average for her three years of study. The Mary Cotting Award of $10 donated by Kathryn Fellows for good school spirit and excellence in nursing care was given to Miss Alice Downing.

In the Class of 1960 were Rosemarie Agnes Allgaier, Beacon; Kathleen Sue Aiello, Glasco; Mary Anne Cassidy, Elizabeth; N. J.; Margaret Mary Coutant, Ruby; Rosemary DePaola, Glasco; Alice Patricia Downing, New York; Karen Angela Dunne, Rockville Centre; Diane Ellen Geiselhart, Nanpoch; Robert E. Hogan, West Hurley; Julia Ann Kmetz, Rahway, N. J.; Mary Agnes Leirey, Kingston; Barbara Marie Lindemann, Ulster Park; Phyllis Josephine Madajewski, Kingston.

Also receiving their diplomas were Rose Marie Malone, Middletown; Christine Reilly, Irvington, N. J.; Diane Ellen Ringrose, Rahway, N. J.; Eileen R. Tiano, East Kingston; Evva Maria Turco, Glasco; Faith Anita Williams, Port Jervis; and Mary Ellen Duffner Zeeh, Kingston.

Lauds Profession
In his address, Father Cannon lauded the nurses for having chosen their profession. He emphasized the need for more personal dedication and sacrifice in a world torn by materialistic, selfish motives.

"...I congratulate you, each one of you, on this noble achievement. It has been an uphill climb because constantly you were surrounded by a world intent only on getting, when you have to be intent only on giving," he said. "...but you are now only beginning. Now you must go out and face head-on that world I've been speaking about, day in and day out, and still maintain your ideals."

"If you are to win the victory, it is not enough that you be a good nurse; you must be the best. It is not enough that you like your work; you must love it. It is not enough that you give the minimum; you must give the maximum," Father Cannon said.

The Student Nurses Choir, under the direction of Sister Mary Evelyn, sang several selections for the occasion. Rocco Autorino Jr. sang Schubert's "Ave Maria."

Miss America Is Non-partisan About Political Candidates
NEW YORK (AP)—Miss America 1961 is nonpartisan when it comes to national politics.

Miss Nancy Anne Fleming, 18, of Montague, Mich., told her first New York news conference that she thinks the two major presidential candidates, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy, are "charming men." But she said she hadn't given them much thought because she is too young to vote.

Asked which candidate has the most sex appeal, the pretty brunette replied: "I don't think of politicians that manner."

She also was asked what she might say if she happened to be introduced to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on his visit to the United Nations assembly.

"I don't know, sir," she replied. On the question of boy friends, she said she has no steady ones but would not discuss whether there is one that she prefers.

Blushing slightly, she said she would like to be married when she is about 25 and has completed her college education. She plans to enter Michigan State University after year as Miss America.

She keeps her trim 35-22-35 figure at 116 pounds, she said, "through exercise rather than diet."

Before leaving Atlantic City for New York Sunday, she told newsmen she hopes to become a fashion writer and likes sewing and writing.

Rosendale Club Wins State Fair Award For Library Project; Other Winners Listed

The Woman's Club of Rosendale took second prize in Division B of the 1960 New York State Fair's Community Service Awards contest for their project—working for the establishment of a town library.

Announcement of winners was made by Mrs. J. Edwin Yarwood, awards chairman, at the Women's Day luncheon on September 7 at the Fair. Awards were presented to winning organizations by Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The ninth annual awards competition, sponsored by the Women's Division of the Fair, focuses attention on and provides recognition of outstanding achievements of New York State women's organizations in the area of community betterment. Division B, in which the Rosendale club took second prize is for groups of 51 to 100 members or participants. First place was awarded to the Auburn Service League. Their project was the organization of the Auburn Children's Theatre. Community Beautification awards were given for the second time this year, and Woman Volunteer of the Year award for the first time.

The 100 entries were judged August 4 by J. Stuart Orloff, landscape architect of Huntington; Dr. Margaret W. Vine, head of sociology department at Keuka College; and Mrs. James Kideny of Buffalo.

Other Winners Named
Mrs. Roger Todd, superintendent of Department K (Home Arts and Antiques), also announced the following area winners in competition at the 1960 State Fair.

For making a metallic thread bag, Mrs. Joseph B. Reardon of Orlich Road, Red Hook, took first place. She took third place in the luncheon cloth and place mats section.

First place awards were awarded to Marion H. Harding, 12 Ridge Road, New Paltz for her draperies, stoles and skirt.

Aly Khan Leaves Bettina Money And Big Home
LONDON (AP)—Aly Khan left $280,000 and a mansion at Chantilly, France, to his constant companion Bettina, it was disclosed in his will published today.

Bettina, a model whose real name is Mme. Simone Bodin, was with the late Aga Khan's son in Paris. He suffered fatal injuries in an automobile accident in Paris May 12.

Aly Khan's home was in Switzerland, and the full extent of his estate—believed to total millions—was not disclosed by the will.

His estate holdings in England alone were valued at the equivalent of $30,940.

The will directed the bulk of the estate be disposed of under the "Shia Moslem law, which is my personal law, in force for all members of the Shia Moslem community in the country of my domicile of origin, Pakistan."

The will explained that under Shia Moslem law the net estate should be divided into three parts. Of these, two parts would go to his lawful heirs as though he had died without leaving a will. The third part would be set aside to pay "legacies and duties."

Among Aly Khan's heirs are his daughter Yasmin, by his former wife Rita Hayworth, the movie actress. He directed that her share be held in trust until she is 21. She will be 11 in December.

Power Failure Causes Heavy Run on Village Candle Supply

Hurricane Donna took a swipe at the Woodstock area Monday en route to New England and Canada and by nightfall the old fashioned candlesticks was worth its weight in gold.

Power failures shut off electricity in Woodstock starting at 11:25 a. m. Monday and by mid-afternoon, virtually the entire township was without power. Only one circuit servicing the center of the village in the Village Green area survived the storm.

The local hardware stores and the Gift Shop experienced a heavy run on candles and the entire supply was exhausted in a matter of minutes. Meanwhile, neighbors called neighbors in frantic search of the only source of light in most parts of Woodstock, Bearsville, Wittenberg, Shady and Lake Hill.

Power was restored to the Ohayo mountain road section at 8:30 p. m., but it was several hours later before other areas had lights.

The heavily wooded roads were scenes of chaos and shambles as trees were ripped down, limbs cracked and leaves were prematurely hurled to earth.

No Serious Damage
Fire Chief George Haythorne said this morning that luckily there was no serious property or flood damages reported in the township. Trees were reported down in many sections and in the Bearsville area, a huge tree had to be sawed and taken off the road to permit a school bus to pass.

Woodstock Country Club was one of the hardest hit spots in the village. There were three huge trees felled by the storm, two in the congested area between the clubhouse and the locker rooms. Huge piles of debris collected at the club's swimming pool as the ruddied Sawkill creek rose to within four feet of the bridge to Route 212 off Route 375 and the country club bridge which golfers use to reach the No. 1 tee.

The fire pump was knocked out at Wittenberg but was quickly repaired, Chief Haythorne said.

A huge tree is reported to have crashed through a residence on Plochman Lane, but the location could not be fixed.

Onteora P-TA Plans Meeting
The Onteora Parent-Teacher Association will hold its first regular meeting of the school year at 8 p. m. Tuesday, September 20, in the cafeteria of the Boiceville school.

The program for the evening, prepared by Mrs. Mary Cawson and conducted by Ronald Vanni, Director of Elementary Education, will present a panel of special services teachers: Harry Simon—music, Herbert Di—art, Miss Margaret Ruff—remedial reading, Ed Witko—physical education, Mrs. Hazel Osborne—health, and Miss Mary Gormley—library who will discuss briefly the programs they have planned for the coming year. A question and answer period will follow the presentations by the panel members.

Association president, Mrs. Gordon Anderson, will preside over the regular business meeting and present the organization's program plans for the school year, introduce the executive committee, and report on the scholarship program and forthcoming fund drive.

New elementary school teachers will be introduced to the membership by Ronald Vanni, and the new secondary school teachers will be presented by Paul Runge, Director of Secondary Education.

All regular members of the Onteora P-TA are urged to attend this meeting and to bring with them neighbors and friends who may be potential members.

Following the Special Services Program refreshments will be served.

Elections Ahead For Garden Club
Mrs. Henry Winzenreid, president of the Woodstock Garden Club, has named a nominating committee to present a slate for vice-president, treasurer and membership chairman at the October meeting when elections will take place. The committee was appointed at the monthly meeting of the Garden Club on Sept. 7 at the Overlook Methodist church hall in Woodstock.

Committee members are Mrs. Therese Kessel, chairman, Mrs. Minnie Coutant and Mrs. Ernest Muller. Plans were made for care by club members of the flower boxes at the Woodstock Information Center until frost.

A large attendance of members and guests enjoyed a very stimulating talk, "The Secret of the Green Thumb" by Mrs. Francis Digi of Jamaica, N. Y., who answered numerous questions on gardens and house plants following her talk. Among the guests present was Mrs. Kearney, the former Mrs. Van Ness, an early president of the club. Hostesses were Mrs. Ethel Bradshaw and Mrs. Minnie Coutant.

Wynetr Praises Maverick Stint By Zaratzian
A beautifully played concert by three fine artists was presented to a receptive Maverick audience on Sunday. The featured instrumentalist was Harry Zaratzian, a violist of extraordinary persuasiveness. The viola is an uncommonly recalcitrant instrument, a bit outside, tending to muffled low tones and a constrained, nasal upper register. It speaks with effort, it lacks the natural brilliant flair which makes the violin such a popular solo instrument. These are among the reasons it is kept hidden in the bowels of an ensemble, as if in shame, and why viola recitals are rare. But Mr. Zaratzian gives the lie to these theoretical shortcomings and in his hands the viola becomes a noble, eloquent voice. His tone is even throughout the range, warm and masculine, his technical address notable and his musical projection vigorous and sensitive. In a sense the concert was constructed to show these qualities to advantage and it succeeded altogether in doing so. Mr. Zaratzian, abetted by the sympathetic support of Ilse

At Barclay Heights Shopping Center's Victory Market Opens Wednesday

Victory Super Market opening Wednesday will be the first establishment to open in the Simmons Plaza Shopping Center on Route 9W, Barclay Heights.

The new market in the Town of Saugerties will be one of the largest in the Victory's Chain which has its headquarters in Norwich. The opening has created 40 new jobs in the area.

Feature Parcel Pick-up
An innovation in grocery shopping in the area will be introduced with Victory's parcel pick-up station service at the exit of the store.

After a customer has finished shopping, the packages are placed in the customer's cart. Each cart has a duplicate set of tickets on the front. The customer wheels the cart to the exit door and leaves it at the parcel pick-up station, taking one of the duplicate tickets. Upon returning with the car and showing the numbered card, the parcels are placed by an attendant in the automobile.

The new super market incorporates the latest in design and modern food handling techniques. The wide spacious aisles designed for leisure shopping or brisk time-saving run-in shopping will be appreciated by those who favor freedom of movement.

With Firm Since 1940
John Kilgannon, manager of the store, started with the company in 1940 at Liberty, and has since managed the Victory store in that area.

One of the innovations of the meat department is the large controlled temperature refrigerator room equipped with ultra-violet light which assures the absence of bacteria and assists in giving Victory meats aging for best consumer preservation.

A new automatic computing scale eliminates all possibility of human error.

Special sales items for the opening will be featured in three full pages of advertising in today's Freeman.

Many housewives will be enthusiastic over the new sanitary methods of presenting farm fresh produce. Every item offered for sale in this unique department has been individually inspected for quality, hand-sorted, washed or cleaned, and packaged in protective cellophane which assures added freshness.

Offers Delicatessen
The delicatessen department is a service department featuring freshly baked pies, cooked fish, barbecued chicken, spare ribs, baked beans, salads, and has been postponed until Wednesday night at 7:30 p. m.

Attends Convention
The Rev. Norman C. Krapp, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church in Woodstock, will attend the fall convention of the Hudson Conference of the United Lutheran Synod of New York and New England, which will meet at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, West Camp, on Friday, Sept. 16, at 10 a. m. Lawrence Deede, who has been appointed lay delegate to the Conference, will accompany Pastor Krapp.

The Lutheran Church Council will meet on Tuesday, Sept. 20, at 7:30 p. m.

Square Club to Hear Major W. A. Foehser
Major Arthur William Foehser, advisor to the National Guard, will be the guest speaker, as the Woodstock Square Club resumes its fall meetings Thursday at fireman's hall at 8 p. m.

Major Foehser will show slides of his trip to the Air Force base in Thule, Greenland. All Masons are invited.

Senior Citizens Club Sets First Meeting
Woodstock Seniors Citizens Club will open the fall season with a covered dish supper at the Methodist Church hall on Tuesday, Sept. 20. Supper will be served at 6 p. m.

There will be election of officers and plans will be discussed for next year's program, after the dinner.

Hurley Named Assistant to Coach Burke at Kingston High

Cole Is Selected As 2nd Assistant Of Gridiron Squad

Bill Hurley, second assistant football coach at Kingston High School for the past 11 years, has been named first assistant to head coach Bill Burke. He will succeed the late Russell F. Cunningham, who died suddenly last week.

The announcement was made today by G. Warren Kias, director of athletics. Hurley had the recommendation of Burke and the concurrence of Principal Clifford Miller, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Soper and the Athletic Committee of the Board of Education.

Named to succeed Hurley as second assistant was Ronald W. Cole. A member of the physical education staff since the fall of 1956, Cole has been assigned to the elementary schools and previously was assistant to Al Gruner, football coach at the Myron J. Michael School.

Both men will start at their new positions today. Hurley is also the jayvee basketball coach and along with Kias, coaches the track team.

Donna Winner Over Tracks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Heavy rains swept north by Hurricane Donna washed out harness racing at all of the state's tracks except Batavia Downs Monday night.

There, driver Bob Shuttleworth scored with three straight winners. He was behind Hazel Hal M. ($4.30) in the second race, Cracker ($4.80) in the third, and Rowdy Prince ($5.20) in the fourth.

Dominion Lee scooped a field of Class B2 pacers to take the $1,300 feature in 2:06. Driver Del Manges brought the 7-year-old to the top in the backstretch and he was never threatened. He paid $11.60.

Scotty Direct I ($8.00) was second and Amber Dillon ($5.50) third.

Yanks Take Slim Lead Into KC

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees take a one-game lead into Kansas City for the opener of a two-game series tonight while the Baltimore Orioles, second in the American League race, play the first of two at Detroit. For the Yankees, it's the end of a road trip—but for the Orioles it could be the end of the road.

The Birds, still laying eggs when they perch on top, started the seven-game western tour with a 1½-game lead over the Yankees.

Now, with two games left on the trip, the Birds have lost three of five, are two games behind the Yankees in the lost column—and have a four-game showdown looming at Yankee Stadium this week-end.

If you're wondering about the Chicago White Sox, the defending champs have won five in a row and trail by three games. They play two with Washington, beginning tonight in Chicago, and play four this weekend in Detroit with a chance to move in while the Orioles and Yanks have at each other.

The contenders had a breather with an open date on the AL schedule Monday.

White Plains Has 100 Candidates

More than 100 candidates, more than the usual number, reported for practice sessions at White Plains High School. The Westchester powerhouse will be an opponent of Kingston High this fall.

Coach Dean Loucks, a former Yale star, has wingback Pete Colino, fullback Charley Jenkins, guard Ron Berlingo and John Littleton back from a 1959 team which posted a 6-2 record. Colino is the lone starter.

Jenkins, a hard driving fullback, troubled with a knee injury, had the ailment corrected by a winter operation.

Nicklaus Survives Scare To Win, 1 Up, in 1st Round

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A real tough 1-up victory in the opening round may just be what Jack Nicklaus needed to brace himself for a charge at his second straight National Amateur golf championship.

"A lot of luck has to ride on your shoulders out there," said the 20-year-old Ohio State pharmacy student. "I went to sleep for five or six holes and had to be jolted back to win."

"I hope I have a good chance to win. I would just as soon have a close first round. But I always play to win fast—my only thought is to get the match over as soon as I can and get off the golf course."

Major Amos B. Hoople Set for Football Season

Attention readers, Major Amos B. Hoople, the greatest prognosticator of our time, will again give the inside "dope" of his football selections and scores. Hoople will return on Friday and will make his unqualified successful picks each Friday until the gridiron season closes.

This great football handicapper spent an entire summer doing much research on all the collegiate and high school gridiron teams and has also invented a couple of new systems, which will guarantee those who follow his picks 99 4/10 per cent accuracy.

A football season without Major Hoople is like a millionaire without money. This first man in motion has millions of readers who swear by his amazing selections.

Hoople was toasted from continent to continent last season after he correctly forecast many of the uncanny upsets which took place. Never one to brag about his accomplishments, the gentle Major just took everything in stride and promised for perfection this season. Who can doubt his ability?

Nine Are Named To the Football Hall of Fame

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) — Nine athletes, including a player-coach combination from Columbia University, have been named to football's Hall of Fame.

Chester Larocque, president of the National Football Foundation, announced the names of the new members. The seven living inductees will be honored at the foundation's third annual dinner in New York Dec. 6 as will the memory of the two who are deceased.

Lou Little, retired coach, and Sid Luckman, one of the earliest great passing quarterbacks, were the two men from Columbia. Little was a star in 1937-39, and Luckman was a star in 1937-39.

A total of 181 men, including 113 players and 48 coaches, has been named to the Hall of Fame which will be housed in a building to be erected on the campus of Rutgers in New Brunswick, where football was born.

The hefty, boyish blond, who has no intention of turning pro, is used to close ones. Last year at Colorado Springs his relentless move to the championship in golf's most grueling match-play competition was underlined by a pair of 2 and 1 triumphs, a 1-up decision in 18 holes and 1-up conquests in the double round semifinals and finals.

Nicklaus, a bridegroom of six weeks, slipped from a 3-up lead after nine holes in Monday's first round of 72 matches and had to rally to defeat 38-year-old John Donohue of Des Moines.

Three Long Putts
Donohue whipped in putts of 20, 18 and 15 feet on the last nine to throw a scare into Nicklaus, who rapped home a tricky 5-footer for a winning par 4 on the last hole.

Stuart Leads Bucs to 6-1 Win; Magic Number Reduced to 11

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now it's Dick Stuart, slamming home runs for distance, who is doing the job for the Pittsburgh Pirates, the club that always has a guy ready to perk 'em up.

Roberto Clemente, Bill Virdon, Hal Smith, Don Hoak, Bill Mazeroski, Dick Schofield, Dick Groat, Rocky Nelson—name all of the Bucs, they've all had a bat ready in their bid for Pittsburgh's first National League pennant in 33 years.

Giants Eliminated
Stuart stepped in Monday night, belting his 20th home run, with a man on base, a triple and a single, as the Pirates whipped San Francisco 6-1 and officially eliminated the fifth-place Giants.

The victory also sent the Pirates into a 7½-game lead over both St. Louis and Milwaukee and reduced their magic number to 11. The Braves climbed within one percentage point of the second-place Cardinals with a 4-2 decision at St. Louis as Warren Spahn won his 19th.

Any combination of Pittsburgh victories and St. Louis defeats totaling 11 eliminates the Cardinals. The combination is 10 for the Pirates over Milwaukee, and seven over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who were rained out at Philadelphia.

Stuart had his second three-hit game in a row, with each cluster including a long home run. The Pirates swung for 16 hits as southpaw Harvey Haddix won his 11th. Stuart has homered in three of Pittsburgh's last four victories.

Sanford Beaten

Monday night's shot capped a three-run fourth inning that iced it against loser Jack Sanford (12-12). The inning began with a chill when center fielder Bill Virdon pulled up lame after running out a double for the Pirates.

Schofield, the "no-hit" shortstop who stepped in when Dick Groat suffered a broken wrist last week, continued his hitting, going 2-for-4. He is batting an even .500 as a regular.

Spahn, now within one of his 11th 20-victory season, checked the Cards on seven hits. He got out of a bases-loaded jam by fanning pinch-hitter Bob Nieman in the eighth. It was Spahn's 286th career victory and tied him with Pittsburgh's Vern Law for the season high.

Nicklaus, whose runner-up feat in the National Open in Denver last June was the best amateur finish since Johnny Goodman's victory in 1933, today takes on 19-year-old Ken Finke of Tucson, Ariz., a 1959 semifinalist in the USGA National Junior. Finke was one of 56 players in the field of 200 drawing first round byes.

The second round of 64 matches over the tree-lined, rolling 6,616-yard St. Louis Country Club course, with its tricky par of 35-36-71, will lead to two days of morning and afternoon eliminations. This will set up the 36-hole semifinals Friday and the finals Saturday.

Three upsets enlivened the first round. Bruce Devlin, 1960 Australian Open champion, was ousted 2 and 1 by Bill Stewart, a 39-year-old salesman from Springfield, Mo. Dudley Wyson of Dallas, a 1959 semifinalist, was thumped 5 and 4 by Delane Thompson, Wichita Falls, Texas. Dr. Edgar Updegraff of Tucson, two-time Western Amateur titlist, fell 2 and 1 to Fred Hammer of Detroit.

BEST BOWLING

Cliff Davis, Independent League veteran, led city pinmen with a 617 series last night. He had high solos of 214 and 211 on the Sani Bowlers lanes.

Jack Blinder matched games of 176, 192 and 236 for 604 in the Rotron League.

KENNETH SCHUPP powered a 572 series with games of 174, 180 and 218. Two Starters Among 57 Candidates for KHS Gridiron Squad

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Coming out of an extended hiatus, during which we were neither tired, nor fired, just plain busy, we will take a long look back at the historic 1960 golf season, before plunging into the fall and winter sports scene.

For what they may be worth, we pass on the following observations:

Bill Kaufman, Harvey Bostic and William (Buzzy) Costello were the dominant golf male personalities of the season. Kaufman, a competent, journeyman golfer for several years, achieved stardom for the first time—winning the Wiltwyck Country Club title, then holding off a late rally by George Hughes to annex the Kingston City match game crown.

Bostic won the Wiltwyck Invitational and reached the finals in two other major events—the Hudson River Golf Association and Wiltwyck championship flight. Costello, 16-year-old Kingston High School and Wiltwyck Ace, established himself as the No. 1 junior player in this part of the country. He advanced to the finals of the USA state Junior tournament and the National Jaycee tournament in Des Moines. Blessed with a sound swing and positive mental approach to the game, he is one of the super stars of the future.

Wiltwyck Golfers Dominate:

Bill Van Aken achieved a lifetime dream when he defeated Ray Billows and Bill Waterous in a sudden death playoff for the Woodstock Open. But Waterous squared accounts by toppling Van Aken from his Woodstock Country Club crown in a spectacular 36-hole duel.

Wiltwyck Country Club golfers dominated the local scene, as they may continue to do for an indefinite period. George Hughes picked up another Twaalfskill title, after narrowly averting elimination at the hands of Attorney Charles H. Gaffney.

In the city playoff against Kaufman, it was evident that Hughes needs more rugged conditioning than weekend high-level matches to compete on even terms with the half dozen or so Wiltwyck Country Club swingers who are on a continuous raw meat diet in tournament competition. It seems beyond the capabilities or willingness of Twaalfskill golfers to stage a rousing championship flight. Hughes still retains the most beautiful golf swing in the area but the incentive must be maintained.

Leon Randall continued his domination of the Herdegen Memorial and won several Eastern New York Golf Association weekly tournaments, but a work schedule which necessitated several long out of town trips cut heavily into his play and practice time and he had to settle for what for him was an ordinary season in 1960. The work schedule is being changed, we are told, and you can look for the old Randall in 1961.

Mrs. de Lisio Retains Skill:

Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) de Lisio of Woodstock Country Club continued her domination of the women's scene, racking up her second straight Ulster County championship, a sixth Woodstock Country Club title, the Freeman Hole-in-one and Stamford Invitational. Mrs. William D. (Chris) Harris, the Twaalfskill champion, has advanced to the finals in the championship and handicap flights at Twaalfskill and is odds on favorite to win both. Mrs. George C. Rifenbary, a second time winner of the Wiltwyck Champion, has to be rated among the top women golfers of the county. Best of the younger crop appear to be Janet Fochi of Woodstock and Mrs. James Andretta, Jr. of Wiltwyck. Mrs. Betty Davenport is back on the golf trails and will have to be reckoned with for many years at Wiltwyck CC.

Miss Fochi, a sturdily built young lady, appears to be the most powerful hitting player ever developed in these parts. With Mrs. Jessie Burnett leaving the area to move to California and Mrs. de Lisio retiring from WCC competition, Miss Fochi could be the 1961 champion at the village club.

Player saturation and membership rolls hit all-time highs this year. Formation of the Catskill Mountain District Golf Association promises closer cooperation and a better future for the game. The growth of women's competitive golf was the major highlight of the '60 season, as we saw it. Seems the girls are not as bashful about golf tournaments as they used to be.

Lose Halfback But Gain Tackle At Syracuse U.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Syracuse University's football team lost a halfback but gained a second-string tackle in trips to the doctor's office.

Mark Weber, varsity right halfback from Solon, Ohio, will be out five or six weeks with strained ligaments in his left knee, suffered in a scrimmage Saturday.

The university said, however, Weber would not have to undergo an operation, which would have cost his services for the season.

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder moved Pete Brokaw, a hard-running junior, to Weber's spot at right halfback. Don King, a service returnee from Buffalo, filled Brokaw's spot on the second unit.

Another set of X-rays showed that Dave Meggyesy, a highly rated sophomore, did not suffer a shoulder separation as first believed. Meggyesy, outside tackle on the second unit, is expected to be ready for action soon.

Americans have been enjoying a bigger and better diet in recent years. Since 1929, aggregate U. S. farm output has increased about 40%, as compared to an increase in population of 30%.

Mt. Whitney, the highest point in California, and Death Valley, the lowest point, are only 85 miles apart.

Governor's Cup Playoffs Resume

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Williamsport and Springfield will make another attempt tonight to play the second game of their best-of-five series for the Eastern League Governor's Cup.

The game was rained out Monday night for the second straight day.

Williamsport, the pennant winner, leads the series, 1-0.

Bluth, Weber Leading Doubles Tournament

CHICAGO (AP)—Ray Bluth and Dick Weber of St. Louis held a slim lead today at the halfway point of the Men's National Doubles Bowling Tournament.

Bluth and Weber, who lead the eight qualifying teams into the finals with a record total of 10,234, had a point total of 79.54.

The $19,000 tournament with a $2,000 first prize uses the Petersen point system under which a team earns one point for each game won and an additional point for every 100 pins knocked down.

At the end of 16 games, Bluth and Weber, the 1956 titlists, had won 11 and lost five while knocking down 6,854 pins.

In second place were Carmen Salvino and Bill Bunetta of Chicago with 78.78, a thin 76 pins behind.

Bob Kwolek and Ed Lubanski of Detroit were third with 76.71 points.

Two Albany area stars, Joe Donato and Joe Schmidt, combined for a 2537 total in the final six game block early Sunday morning and finished 24th in the field of 168 teams in the qualifying round.

Their aggregate total for the four blocks of six games each was 9629, only 250 pins away from a spot for the finals. The eight high teams continued to the match-game finals.

In their rousing final block, Schmidt totaled 1214, winding up with a 279 game, and Donato rolled 1323.

For his 24 games, Donato showed a 220.3 average and Schmidt had 199.18.

Hetsco, Sickler Only Survivors From '59 Eleven

Maroon Opens Season Friday, September 30 Against Port Jervis

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Only two veteran starters, a host of untried reserves and some 1959 jayvees. Those are the boys who will carry the Kingston High School football colors this year as Coach Bill Burke tries to put some of his coaching magic to work while preparing for the season opener Friday night, Sept. 30, at Dietz Stadium against Port Jervis.

Guard John Hetsco and halfback Richie Sickler are the only two returning vets who were starters all of last season. The rest of that squad, which won three, lost three and tied one, has been depleted by graduation.

It includes ends Terry Kalish and Terry Corkery, tackles Eddie Boyle and Milan Pece, guard Bob Jenkins, center Milan Pece, quarterback Keating and fullback Bob Decker.

Jenkins, Leeds, Pece and Keating were All-DUSO first team performers while Kalish was a second team selection, along with Vinnie Smedes, who will return this year as a fullback. Smedes took over for Decker when the latter was injured last season and was a standout in the last few games.

Only Six Games

In addition to having one of his greenest squads in history, Burke is faced with the problem of trying to keep the interest high with only a six game schedule. This is the first time since he has been coaching the sport that Burke has been forced to play less than seven games.

"We sent out 46 letters and made 15 individual contacts, but we couldn't get anymore than six games," Burke declared. He said that Oct. 21 or 22 and Nov. 5 are still open and invites any club within a 100-mile radius, no matter how big in size, to play Kingston. "We are receptive to any school," he said.

A total of 57 candidates have reported for practice. The total is somewhat lower than in recent seasons and Burke is surprised because he feels there are many opportunities this year for boys to earn a starting job. "All positions are wide open as of this time," he said.

Reserves Gone

In addition to the starters from '59 who will not return, reserves Billy Pretsch, Jim Rua, Terry Kelly, Richard Marcus, Paul Gardner and Ronald Hamilton have also been graduated.

Returning reserves and fighting for a starting berth are quarterbacks George Thompson and John Falvey, halfback Bruce Fiore and center Al Gruner.

Several jayvee performers are expected to bolster the squad. They are Wayne Burhans, Clarence Redd, Tom Gardner, Tom Hatcher and Glenn McLeod, Paul Natoli and James Wilson, all ends; guards Ted Benson and Nick Vladih; center Robert Ploss and tackles Glenn Fitzgerald, John Duffner, Bruce Smith, John McGarry, Charles Montafia, Larry Delaney and halfbacks Horace Walker and Mike Ferraro, a pair of good prospects.

Despite the lack of veteran talent, Burke feels there is hope for the future. "This club is young and green and is a year away but we have some good prospects," he remarked. He plans to run the boys through a full scrimmage next Tuesday with Albany. "This way we'll see what we can do under game conditions," Burke stated.

Pioneers Picked

He feels Poughkeepsie rates the nod to defend its DUSO championship and picks Middletown as a strong candidate. As for Kingston? It's a good guess from past experience that opponents of the Maroon gridders will know they've been in a game.

Governor's Cup Playoffs Resume

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Williamsport and Springfield will make another attempt tonight to play the second game of their best-of-five series for the Eastern League Governor's Cup.

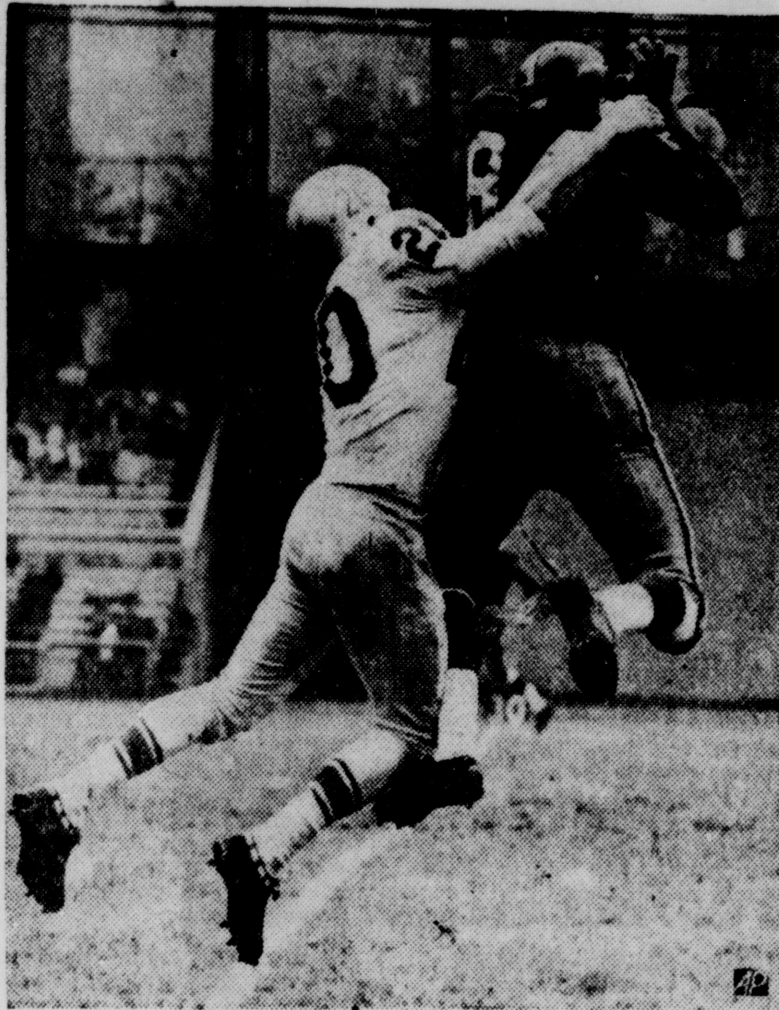

The game was rained out Monday night for the second straight day.

Williamsport, the pennant winner, leads the series, 1-0.

Switch in Recordings

NEW YORK (AP)—Original cast albums of Broadway shows are usually made in a studio without spectators or costumes.

But Hal Holbrook recorded his one-man hit "Mark Twain Tonight!" in a different mood. Holbrook carefully got into his complicated makeup for the session, and invited in other actors who had been unable to witness his performance because of their own work schedules.

THE CATCHER CAUGHT—Buffalo Bills defensive back Bill Atkins, white jersey, leaves ground to collar Art Powell of the New York Titans during the opening American Football League game at New York's Polo Grounds. Pass play was good for 12 yards. Titans went on to win, 27-3. (AP Wirephoto)

Bluth, Weber Leading Doubles Tournament

CHICAGO (AP)—Ray Bluth and Dick Weber of St. Louis held a slim lead today at the halfway point of the Men's National Doubles Bowling Tournament.

Bluth and Weber, who lead the eight qualifying teams into the finals with a record total of 10,234, had a point total of 79.54.

The $19,000 tournament with a $2,000 first prize uses the Petersen point system under which a team earns one point for each game won and an additional point for every 100 pins knocked down.

At the end of 16 games, Bluth and Weber, the 1956 titlists, had won 11 and lost five while knocking down 6,854 pins.

In second place were Carmen Salvino and Bill Bunetta of Chicago with 78.78, a thin 76 pins behind.

Bob Kwolek and Ed Lubanski of Detroit were third with 76.71 points.

Two Albany area stars, Joe Donato and Joe Schmidt, combined for a 2537 total in the final six game block early Sunday morning and finished 24th in the field of 168 teams in the qualifying round.

Their aggregate total for the four blocks of six games each was 9629, only 250 pins away from a spot for the finals. The eight high teams continued to the match-game finals.

In their rousing final block, Schmidt totaled 1214, winding up with a 279 game, and Donato rolled 1323.

For his 24 games, Donato showed a 220.3 average and Schmidt had 199.18.

National Tennis Finals Set Saturday

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Neale Fraser will meet Rod Laver and Maria Bueno of Brazil will play Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., in the men's and women's finals of the National Tennis Championships on Saturday — if it doesn't rain.

The finals originally were slated for Sunday, but rain caused the program to be put back to Monday. Then along came Hurricane Donna and the West Side Tennis Club was all but flooded.

Second place Richmond will meet Rochester at home in the other game in the best-of-7 series. The winner of the series meets in another best-of-7 for the title and a berth in the series against the American Association champ.

Each of the home teams will play host for the first two games, then switch cities for the next two. They will alternate after that until the finalists are determined.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Billy Johnston, named "chief straight arrow" by his fellow pros because of his accuracy on the long shots, finally straightened out his putting and won the Utah Open Monday.

He beat 15 of the top 18 PGA money winners on the way. And collected $2,800 top money.

Johnston's 22-under-par 262 in the Utah Open was the lowest 72-hole total this year in tournaments co-sponsored by the Professional Golfers Association.

It was Johnston's first PGA victory in a dozen starts this year. The 35-year-old Provo, Utah, pro did it with an 9-under-par 63, overcoming a four-stroke deficit at the end of the third round. He shot rounds of 67, 66, 66 and 63.

Johnston's eagle 3 on the last hole carried him past the closing efforts of Art Wall Jr., Bill Collins, Ken Venturi and Doug Sanders.

Wall, of Pocono Manor, Pa., had a finishing 66 on the 6,310-yard Salt Lake Country Club layout to end up second at 264.

Collins, of Crystal River, Fla., and Venturi, of Palo Alto, Calif., had 265s. Sanders, of Miami Beach, Fla., had a 266.

Toronto Opens Bid for Sweep

NEW YORK (AP)—Toronto, a last-place finisher in 1959, but a pennant winner in the International League this year goes after the big marbles tonight when it plays host to fourth-place Buffalo in the start of the league's semifinal playoffs that will eventually pick its representative in the Little World Series.

Injuries Key To Grid Chances At Many Schools

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

A chink has fallen off the so-called invincible wall of the Syracuse football team, and coach Ben Schwartzwalder is wondering if he will have to do some shoring up elsewhere, too.

Recurrence of knee injuries have been one of Schwartzwalder's big worries as he goes about the task of preparing the Orangemen for defense of their national title.

When halfback Mark Weber came up with a knee injury in Saturday's scrimmage, the Syracuse coach wondered if perhaps he wasn't more of a prognosticator than he had hoped.

Monday he knew. Weber will be sidelined for at least three weeks, and if the knee doesn't respond to treatment, he may

Many of Our Actions Have Overtones of Loneliness

Mrs. Muriel Lawrence is on vacation. This is the fourth of six articles by psychologist Dr. Rollo May which will appear during her absence. They are taken from Dr. May's "Man's Search for Himself," and reprinted by permission of the publisher. Copyright, 1953, by W. W. Norton & Co., Inc.

By Dr. Rollo May

A characteristic of modern people is loneliness.

It is such an omnipotent and painful threat to many persons that they have little conception of the positive values of solitude and even at times are very frightened of being alone.

The cause is not difficult to discover. When a person does not know with any inner conviction what he wants or what he feels; when in a period of crisis, he becomes aware of the fact that the conventional desires and goals he had been taught to follow no longer bring him security or give him any sense of direction, when he feels an inner void while he stands amid the outer confusion of upheavals in his society, he senses danger; and his natural reaction is to look around for other people. They, he hopes, will give him the sense of direction; some comfort in the knowledge that he is not alone in his plight.

In the daily experience of most of us, the fear of being alone may not crop up in intense form very often. But it may show itself in subtle thoughts which pop up to remind us, when we were not invited to so-and-so's party, that someone else likes us even if so-and-so doesn't; or to tell us that we were successful and popular at some time in the past. Often this reassuring process is so automatic that we are not aware of it, but only of the ensuing comfort to our self-esteem. Social acceptance has so much power because it holds the feelings of loneliness at bay. A person is surrounded by comfortable warmth; he is merged in the group. He temporarily loses his loneliness but at the price of giving up his identity in his own right.

He renounces the one thing which would get him constructively over the loneliness in the long run—the developing of his own inner resources, strength and sense of direction.

The fear of being alone derives much of its terror from our anxiety lest we lose our awareness of ourselves.

If people contemplate being alone for longish periods of time without anyone to talk to or any radio to inject noise into the air, they are generally afraid that they would be at "loose ends," would lose the boundaries for themselves with nothing to bump up against, nothing to define them. Many modern people have gone so far in their dependence on others for their feeling of reality that they are afraid that without it they would lose the sense of their own existence. Like to Make Wife Purr? Try Talking to Her

Memo to Men: If you want a happier, more companionable wife, try talking to her.

You would be surprised at how many frustrated wives who write me say somewhere in their letters: "If my husband would only talk to me" or "if I could just discuss things with my husband."

"What," you may be wondering, "do women want to talk about?"

For one thing, they want to hear about your work. Having you discuss your work with them makes them feel more like a real partner in the marriage.

They would like to be able to discuss the children with you, too, instead of having to handle their problems alone because it makes you grouchy to hear that the junior isn't doing well in school or that sis is unhappy because she is getting the cold shoulder from her classmates.

Your wives also would like to be able to discuss plans for the future with you — long-range plans that give life more mean-

Outside Jobs Are Viewed as Major Firemen Problem

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A civil service expert said today there is widespread feeling among fire chiefs that some city firemen holding outside jobs look on the firehouse as a place to get some rest.

Henry J. McFarland of Albany, told more than 2,000 fire chiefs here that a survey shows that fire departments across the country are finding outside jobs among firemen a major problem.

"But the attitude seems to be that as long as men have free time from their regular jobs they will seek gainful employment elsewhere," McFarland said.

McFarland is director of the Municipal Services Division of the State Civil Service Department.

In a speech before the second-day session of the International Association of Fire Chiefs meeting, McFarland said the problem of "moonlighting," or outside jobs seemed to be as bad in departments which ban them as in those which allow them.

Moonlighting has also been cited as a major efficiency problem in police departments, both by the State Investigation Commission in its probe of the Buffalo Police Department and by New York City police officials.

McFarland said the fire chiefs survey, which was taken by the association, brought out fatigue as the heart of the problem.

He said the prevailing comment was that some of these firemen view their fire job as a chance to rest up.

McFarland said a few chiefs feel that outside work sharpens their firemen but the majority feels that it creates too many problems. However, many agree there isn't much that can be done about it, he said.

Delegates to the four-day annual conference include fire chiefs from Japan and South America, England and Italy.

In 10,000 years, Chicago, Berlin and Moscow will be buried in ice. Cold periods occur every 40,000 years. These cycles will continue, say scientists, until the earth's great mountain chains are weathered down to hills. Then the seas will roll in over the flatter land. With great water surface, the earth will absorb more of the sun's heat—and the long cycle of ice ages will end.

Joe Martin Puts White House to Blame for Loss

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Joseph W. Martin says White House "errand boys" worked to topple him from his long tenure as House Republican leader while President Eisenhower maintained "a strange sort of neutrality."
Martin, 75, was ousted by Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana last year from the leadership he had held for 20 years. He discloses the deep hurt he felt in a book just published, "My 50 years in Politics," written for him by Robert J. Donovan.

Ingratitude Hurts
"Without a doubt the White House crowd gave him (Halleck) all the encouragement he sought to run against me," Martin said. "The keenest hurt was the sting of ingratitude," he added.
"The President said that he was neutral. It was, however, a strange sort of neutrality in which Eisenhower took no sides while his legislative liaison officials egged Halleck on..."
"I cannot escape the conclusion that the course of events was influenced, at least passively, by Vice President Nixon. He may have held himself correctly aloof, but the vice president was careful to do nothing to discourage his own followers in the House from supporting Halleck."

As for Halleck, Martin sums him up this way:
"Halleck had come to Congress in the first place hell-bent on running for president, vice president, speaker, or whatever else opportunity might put in his way. Charlie is always available."

Faces Party Fight
Martin, running for renomination, faces opposition within his own party for the first time in 35 years in the Massachusetts primary today.

From his half a century in politics he recounts in his book many an anecdote, insight and behind-the-scenes detail. Here are some of them:
Herbert Hoover would have welcomed the 1940 GOP presidential nomination that was won by Wendell Willkie.

When Sen. Charles McNary of Oregon was first approached about running for vice president on the Willkie ticket, he snorted: "Hell no. I wouldn't run with Willkie." He eventually did, however.
Willkie tried to get Martin to work with him in stopping Thomas E. Dewey from becoming governor of New York in 1942, figuring this would eliminate Dewey as a contender for the presidential nomination in 1944.

Lodge Carrying Campaign Fight To Coal Regions

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Republican vice-presidential nominee Henry Cabot Lodge moved into the coal-and-steel areas of West Virginia, northern Ohio and western Pennsylvania today to press the theme that the GOP is the best prepared to cope with cold war problems.
Lodge flew to Huntington today fresh from a rousing ovation at in Columbus where he asserted: the Ohio Republican convention in Columbus where he asserted: "America is still the primary symbol and force for human progress. What this nation stands for is still the greatest hope of man."
The veteran of countless debates with Soviet representatives in the United Nations said the 1960 presidential campaign is a basic life-and-death contest between Communists and those who insist on being free.
It was Lodge's first major campaign address since his resignation as U. S. ambassador to the U. N. Sept. 3.

Man Thrown Out Car Is Pierced By Sign Post

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Stephan A. Wacławik, pierced by a sign post when thrown from his automobile Monday, died today in St. Elizabeth Hospital.
Wacławik, 46, of New Hartford, was driving on rain-slick Route 12 when his car overturned on Deerfield Hill, outside the city. Thrown clear, he landed on the sign post. The post pierced his back and his skull.

Some Do Urge Restraint U.S. Press Is Cool to Idea Of Silent Treatment for K

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Should the American press ignore Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and his expected propaganda fireworks when he appears at the United Nations General Assembly?
Letters, mostly from women and bearing some evidence of an organized movement, have been pouring into newspapers, magazines, television and radio stations asking that Khrushchev be given the silent treatment while he is at the U. N. He arrives in New York Monday.

Woman, HST Agree
Newspapers queried by Editor and Publisher, the journal trade magazine, don't think much of the idea. But some urge restraint in coverage of his propaganda activities.
"I am writing to ask you not to give Khrushchev any publicity while he is here in this country," said Ruth B. Chapman, of Albany, N.Y., in a letter to The Associated Press. "He has insulted our president and country before the world and we know he comes here for a sinister purpose."

Visit Tamed News
Editor and Publisher got these responses:
Turner Catledge, New York Times, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors — "The primary obligation of the American press is to print the news. Mr. Khrushchev's visit to the United Nations will, in our opinion, be important news. The New York Times will report it to the best of its ability."
Michael J. O'Leary, Providence, (R.I.) Journal and Bulletin—"Ridiculous."

Felix McKnight, Dallas, Tex.) Times Herald — "The suggestion that Mr. K be given the silent treatment by the American press smacks of Russia. It sounds like something they might do if Ike went to Moscow. The responsibility of the American newspaper is to report news—and K's visit to the U. N. will be news. In reporting his visit the American press will be performing its traditional service. The American reader can winnow out the propaganda."

Thorough Probe Is Facing Port Of N.Y. Authority

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—The giant Port of New York Authority today faced the most thorough probe of its 39-year history.
A growing resentment at the bi-state agency for refusing to help keep commuter train service running and for proposing a jetport in suburban Morris County resulted Monday in a state senate investigation.
Shortly after the senate set up a seven-man investigating committee to look into detailed records and confidential data of the authority, the first public hearing was set for Tuesday morning, Sept. 27, in the state house at Trenton.

The vote was 18-0.
Three Port Authority officers have been cited for contempt of the House of Representatives, for failure to turn over the private records. They contended Congress had no power over a bi-state agency. They were acting under instructions from Govs. Robert B. Meyner and Nelson A. Rockefeller.

One of them, S. Sloan Colt, is the Port Authority chairman. He promised cooperation with the senate unit.
"The Port Authority is a creature of the states of New Jersey and New York," he said. "It will of course cooperate fully with any New Jersey senate committee designated to conduct an investigation of the authority."

Penney Resumes As Strike Ends
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Diesel and electric locomotives rolled out of Pennsylvania Railroad freight and passenger terminals today from New York to St. Louis as service was restored on the nation's largest rail carrier following settlement of a 12-day strike.
Some PRR maintenance employees returned to work Monday immediately following the agreement on work rules and job security to get equipment ready. Workers also had to check some 10,000 miles of track through 13 states and the District of Columbia. Test runs were made to clean the rails of rust.
Freight operations began shortly after midnight with delivery of loaded cars at terminals to industrial sidings and public unloading tracks.
The PRR claimed that nearly 50,000 loaded freight cars had been stranded short of final delivery.

Designer in Service
PARIS (AP)—The fashion house of Dior said today designer Yves Saint Laurent has been drafted and is now a French soldier.
Military authorities kept mum about him. One said he is only one of 208,000 draftees to be called up this year.
The 24-year-old successor to Christian Dior had twice been deferred and the case caused rumblings in the French Parliament.

Twelve billion dollars annually is the restaurant business' share of the total amount spent by Americans on food.

Castro Seizes Last Independent Radio-TV Chain

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime Monday night took over the last independent radio-TV chain in his country—the $12 million network known as CMQ.

His regime, in an intervention order following a pattern set in the confiscation of many other foreign and domestic businesses, charged that the owners abandoned the plant and failed to keep it in working order.

On another front, Maj. Ernesto Guevara, president of Cuba's National Bank, was reported to have temporarily left his duties to direct operations against anti-Castro rebels in the mountains of central Cuba.

The Castro government now controis more than 100 radio and TV stations. It also controls all but one Cuban newspaper—Informacion in Havana. With control of CMQ, Castro gained the chain's Havana outlet, Radio Reloj, which broadcasts nothing but news 24 hours a day.

The CMQ radio and TV chain has been under fire from Castro's men since late March when one of its top commentators, Louis Conte Aguerro, took asylum in the Argentine Embassy. He charged the government was persecuting him. Shipping sources reported Monday that a Soviet freighter appeared to have delivered a load of arms, including some artillery, to Cuba. The unloading was carried on behind a tight security guard.

6 Teeners Die In Road Crash
RIPLEY, W. Va. (AP)—A car carrying six high school students from their homes in a small farming community to a 4-H club meeting Monday night smashed head-on into a trailer-truck killing all of them outright.
James Scyoc, 16, the lone boy, was the driver. He had gotten his license only two months ago. The dead girls were identified as Sharon Utt, 16; Phyllis Miller, 15; Linda Smith, 14; Lynda Thompson, 15; and Judy Morris, 13.
